SC FLAGS PENDENCY OF 21 NAMES FOR APPOINTMENT, TRANSFER OF HC JUDGES

The Supreme Court told the Centre that its tendency to "pick and choose" judges for transfer and appointment was creating a lot of problems

GOVT'S POLICY HURTING PREMISE OF SENIORITY

A three-judge bench headed by Justice Sanjay Kishan Kaul said at present five reiterated names, five recommended for the first time and 11 for transfers are pending with the government. Criticising the Centre's pick-and-choose policy, a bench said, "When you appoint somebody and don't appoint others, the very premise of seniority gets disturbed"

PROCESS IS UNDERWAY, CENTRE ASSURES SC

- The bench told the Centre's counsel that due to the delay, some judges have withdrawn their names for elevation out of frustration
- The Centre sought two weeks time, and assured the bench that the process is underway. "Let us have some progress before Diwali. We will celebrate it better," the bench told the Centre's counsel

41 diplomats leave, Canada, India spar on violating norms

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

KICKING and screaming after trying to buy time, Canada finally withdrew 41 'excess' diplomats from India following the country's insistence on parity in diplomatic representation.

India's push for parity came after Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau claimed India was behind the killing of Khalistan leader Hardeep Singh Nijjar in British Columbia, Canada on June 18. India had designated Nijjar as a terrorist in 2020.

Announcing the withdrawal of the 41 diplomats, Canadian foreign minister Melanie Joly said, India's demand for parity violates the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations.

"This move was unreasonable and unprecedented and clearly violated the Vienna Convention. Given the implications of India's actions on the safety of our diplomats, we have facilitated their safe departure from India," she said, adding Canada would not take any retaliatory steps.

Joining issue with her, Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said, "Our actions in implementing parity are fully consistent with Article 11.1 of the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations." He pointed out that Article 11.1 of the Vienna Convention says, "In the absence of specific agreement as to the size of the mission, the receiving State may require that the size of a mission be kept within limits considered by it to be reasonable and normal, having regard to circumstances and conditions in the receiving State and to the needs of the particular mission."

"We reject any attempt to portray the implementation of parity as a violation of international norms," Bagchi added.

BATTLE OF EXES, PET AND HOUSE ACCESS

L'affaire Mahua Moitra is getting curiouser. She got into trouble after her ex-partner Jai Anant Dehadrai alleged she let an industrialist use her parliamentary privilege to go after the Adani group so as to target the PM

1 Dehadrai alleged she gave LS portal access to Darshan Hiranandani, Hiranandani group CEO, to post parliamentary questions on her behalf against the Adani group

2 Dehadrai gave his complaint to the CBI and a copy of it to BJP MP Nishikant Dubey, who forwarded it to the Speaker and sought probe by the ethics panel

3 Hiranandani's affidavit admits he had access to Moitra's LS username and password, adding he had paid her huge sums to maintain her lifestyle

4 For her part, Moitra says she would welcome questions from CBI and the ethics panel

5 Caught in the crossfire is Henry, their pet Rottweiler. When Dehadrai took their pet away after separation, Moitra filed police complaints to retrieve Henry. Dehadrai later gave away the pet to her

6 Dehadrai now claims Moitra is offering to return Henry to buy peace

First release of 2 hostages by Hamas amid intense bombing

Two US citizens — a mother and her daughter — freed after mediation by Qatar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

HOURS after the Israel Defense Forces said 20 of the 200 hostages held by Hamas in Gaza are children and that most of the hostages are alive, the militant group announced the release of two Americans. In a statement posted on Telegram late on Friday, Hamas armed wing spokesman Abu Ubaida said: "In response to Qatari efforts, (Ezzedine) al-Qassam Brigades released two American citizens (a mother and her daughter) for humanitarian reasons."

There has been no official confirmation from either Israel or the US. The Times of Israel identified the two hostages as Judith and her teenage daughter Natalie Raanan, adding they have been released in Egypt and handed over to the Red Cross ahead of their expected arrival in Israel.

Their release is significant as it comes amid intense bombardment on Gaza by Israel. The relentless air raids on Friday levelled a northern Gaza district, whose residents got a half-an-hour notice to escape the bombing.

Gaza's Hamas-run Health Ministry said 16 Palestinian Christians were killed in an Israeli airstrike on a Greek Orthodox church housing displaced Palestinians. But the Israeli military claimed only the church's wall was damaged, adding that its target was a nearby building.

While there is no clarity on when Israeli soldiers will set foot in Gaza, Israel's defence minister Yoav Gallant clarified on Friday that his country has no plan to take control of the Strip after destroying Hamas terror network. Israel's long-term objective is to end its responsibility over the Palestinian enclave, he said. P12

Mekedatu padayatra: Govt to drop cases against Cong netas, workers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government has decided to withdraw cases registered against Congress leaders and workers who had participated in a padayatra seeking early implementation of the Mekedatu project, by violating Covid norms.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar had spearheaded the agitation demanding that the balancing reservoir project be implemented at the earliest to ease the drinking water shortage in towns and cities, including Bengaluru. Many Congress leaders, including AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge and Siddaramaiah, had participated in the padayatra. FIRs were filed against them in police stations in Ramanagara district.

Now, responding to Mandya MLC Dinesh Gooligowda's letter to withdraw the cases against the Congress leaders and workers, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has instructed Home Minister G Parameshwara to place the files related to those cases before the cabinet sub-committee for a discussion and later forward the recommendations to the cabinet for action.

CID to investigate BJP worker's death in K'buragi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kalaburagi/Bengaluru

THE Criminal Investigation Department (CID) will probe BJP worker Shivakumar Pujari's death in Kalaburagi district on Thursday.

Shivakumar Pujari (38) from Shirolli, Chincholi taluk, died by suicide after releasing an audio clip on social media sites, in which he allegedly blamed Medical Education Minister Dr Sharan Prakash Patil and Congress workers for his death. Shirolli is part of Sedam assembly segment represented by Patil.

Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara said the truth will come out after the probe. "We have ordered a CID probe and will know the truth after the probe," the Home Minister said. The CID will also verify statements about the minister's (Sharan Prakash Patil) involvement, he said.

SURPRISE POLICY

Army bowls out cricket, players in a bind

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

THE Services team normally comprises at least four or five cricketers from the Indian Army. This time, however, there is none. The recent sports policy announced by the Army means cricketers employed by it have to miss out on domestic tournaments, including the ongoing Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy (T20). When cricket has been included in Los Angeles Olympic fixtures in 2028 during the IOC Session in Mumbai on Monday, this would definitely come as a surprise.

NODE SHUT A SETBACK

The cricket node is among eight to be closed due for lack of results. It means no cricket activity. Manpower, including players and staff posted at these nodes, have been reverted to their parent units by March 25, 2023 latest

In March this year, the Army came out with a sports policy that led to the closure of quite a few nodes, including cricket, golf, tennis and squash. The development meant cricketers serving the Army now cannot represent the Services team. What has made it difficult for players to pursue cricket is that they have to seek permission from their parent unit to represent a state team. And in this case, time had been a constraint as most states finish their selection process well before domestic season commences.

If some players are to be believed, they may not be released from the unit. "Forget about other units. Take for instance, if someone has been posted in Jammu and Kashmir then he may not be released to play cricket," said one player, adding it would be difficult for the player to leave his unit as well. "We have reviewed various disciplines and how they are helping in nation building through sports. Nodes of a few disciplines like rugby and cricket have been closed as they were not delivering results," Brigadier (Physical Training) Satyavrat Sheoran told this daily. He said the players are free to represent other states if their unit permits.

RV Road-Bommasandra Metro stretch to open by April: Siddu

Modi formally launches KR Pura-Baiyappanahalli and Kengeri-Challaghatta stretches of Purple Line; airport line to be ready by 2026

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday announced that the RV Road- Bommasandra stretch and the Nagasandra-Madavara stretch of Metro Phase II Yellow Line will be inaugurated by April 2024. The completion of work on other stretches and the Outer Ring Road and Airport line by 2026 will boost the daily ridership of Metro rail to 20 lakh, he said.

The CM was speaking at his home office "Krishna" where he and his deputy DK Shivakumar took part in a programme in which Prime Minister Narendra Modi virtually dedicated to the nation the KR Pura-Baiyappanahalli and the Kengeri-Challaghatta stretches of the Purple Line of Bengaluru Metro (4.15 km) from Sahibabad in Uttar Pradesh.

Modi also launched the priority section of Delhi-Ghaziabad-Meerut Regional Rapid Transit System and flagged off India's first Namo Bharat train connecting Shahibabad with Dubai depot.

In his address, Modi said, "Two Metro lines of Bengaluru have been dedicated to the nation today. With them, the connectivity to the IT hub in Bengaluru has become much better. Nearly 8 lakh people travel by Bengaluru Metro daily now."

The Rs 363.48-crore KR Pura stretch and the Rs 167.97-crore Challaghatta stretch were opened for commercial operations on October 9. They have boosted daily patronage by over one lakh, according to data released by Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd.

Possibly hinting at Mysuru getting Metro connectivity in the future, the PM said, "In Uttar Pradesh today, Metro rail is in Noida, Ghaziabad, Lucknow, Meerut, Agra and Kanpur. In some places, Metro is running or will run in the near future. In Karnataka too, be it Bengaluru or Mysuru, Metro services will be expanded."

Stressing the need for pollution-free transport to ensure clean air for all, Modi said the Centre has provided Rs 5,000 crore to Bengaluru where electric buses are being rolled out at a cost of Rs 12,000 crore.

CM Siddaramaiah witnesses the virtual inauguration of Namma Metro line from KR Pura to Challaghatta by PM Narendra Modi, at 'Krishna', in Bengaluru on Friday

The CM, in his address, specified deadlines for Metro lines of the 75.06-km Phase II project being built at a cost of Rs 30,695 crore. "Work on the Nagasandra-Madavara stretch (3.14 km) and the RV Road-Bommasandra stretch (Yellow Line) of 19.15 km is in the final stages of completion. They will be opened by April 2024," he said.

The Kalena Agrahara-Nagawara stretch (Pink Line) of 21.26 km will be opened by March 2025. "In all, 117 km of Metro network will be functional by then which will take the ridership to 12 lakh," he said.

Metro Phase 2A (Central Silk Board-KR Pura) and the 2B (KR Pura-KIA) lines of 58 km will be opened in 2026. "The Metro network would touch 176 km and the ridership 20 lakh per day. Of the total project cost of Rs 14,788 crore, Karnataka has released Rs 4,775.36 crore," he said. Siddaramaiah appealed to Modi to take steps to approve the Metro Phase 3 project of 45 km for which the state has submitted a proposal. This project is estimated to cost Rs 15,612 crore.

Radioactive spillage: Mock drill at airport

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A 3.5-hr mock drill was conducted at Bengaluru airport on Friday, simulating the spillage of radioactive material, and a real-time scenario of two critically injured workers rushed to hospitals for treatment.

The exercise, led by the National Disaster Management Authority (NDMA), was held to ensure airport staff are equipped to handle a dangerous situation like a radioactive spill.

The drill began at 10am in the Cargo District of the airport. The scenario enacted was that of spillage of radioactive material from a cargo vehicle transporting it inside the airport, said a source involved in the operation. "We used actual Cobalt-90 to serve as the radioactive material."

The spillage occurs in an area where 60 people are at work. "Two of them who are impacted by the radiation are in a serious condition. They faint and throw up non-stop. One was rushed to Bengaluru Rural government hospital and the other to Aster Hospital. Three with mild symptoms are treated at the spot."

KIA recently had another mock drill of a hostage situation inside an aircraft.

Mudpipe impact: BBMP shuts 12 businesses, slaps notices on 86

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the Mudpipe cafe fire incident, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) on Friday inspected 232 establishments in eight zones, of which 12 where shut and notices were issued to 86 for not complying with licensing regulations and other lapses.

According to Dr Balasundar AS, Chief Health Officer, BBMP health department, the drive will continue for one week. "We will inspect all establishments across eight zones and if lapses are found and the businesses do not comply with BBMP licensing regulations, action will be taken," he said.

A total of 1,118 industries have been licensed under the corporation, of which 232 were inspected on Friday and the drive will continue for a few more days. The steps were taken after the fire tragedy at Mudpipe Cafe in SG Palya police station limits on Wednesday, in which a cafe staffer was seriously injured after he jumped from the building which caught fire due to a LPG cylinder leak.

FISH KILL AT VARTHUR LAKE

Residents irked by foul smell from water body

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Benagaluru

TEN days after the sewage diversion channel breach and mass fish kill at Varthur Lake four days ago, the villagers around the Balagere, Siddapura, and Varthur area have complained of a foul smell emanating from the lake.

Jagadish Reddy, a resident of Varthur and member of Varthur Rising, stated that days after the mass fish kill, thousands of dead fish that were floating have now settled at the bottom. "Due to this, there is a bad smell in the surrounding the lake," said Reddy.

He said that on October 10th, the villagers brought to his notice the diversion channel breach, due to which the lake was flooded with polluted water. On October 17 during his morning walk he found thousands of dead fish floating at Varthur Kodi (stream). The BDA officials who are responsible for the rejuvenation of the lake and its protection were informed to take steps accordingly.

BDA Assistant Executive Engineer, SS Aravind, said labourers were deployed to clear the dead fish and water is being drained out. "A huge pit was dug up and dead fish from the stream were collected and disposed. However, thousands of dead fish that would have settled at the bottom of the lake would have decayed and this could be the reason for the stench. It will be there for a few more days," he said.

The official added that to ensure that there is no breach of channel diversion in the future, permission has been sought to strengthen the 3 km channel. "The breach was fixed, and now the strengthening process is going on. There are a few more weak points and heavy rains could lead to soil erosion if not strengthened now," he stressed.

Incomplete RCC drain a risk to residents

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

An unfinished U-shaped RCC drain has been a cause of concern for close to a year at Astro Greenwood Layout Regency in Bellandur alleged Bengaluru NavaNirmana Party (BNP), a city-based political party.

After the city experienced a flood last year, the Astro Greenwood Regency suffered waterlogging. Subsequently, the BBMP initiated reconstruction of the pre-existing stormwater drain connecting Soul Kere that passes through the layout. However, the construction of the drainage system was left incomplete.

Silk Board Jn flyover to be partially blocked from today

Motorists are in for slow moving traffic at the Central Silk Board Junction (on the Madivala side) for the next four months as the BMRCL will be barricading a portion here to carry out infrastructure works for its Outer Ring Road Line. An official release from BMRCL said, "The CSB junction flyover up and down carriageway (Madivala side) will be partially barricaded from October 21 for four months for carrying out loops and flyover ramp staging work."

"The dug-up drain passes through our society. Despite several complaints, the authorities are unresponsive, and it's disappointing to see that they have left this drain incomplete for nearly a year. This is not just a matter of inconvenience but a severe health hazard for us. The dug-up line is now filled with stagnant water, which is a breeding ground for mosquitoes and a potential risk for diseases like dengue. The problem intensifies during the rainy season, making it unbearable for us," a member of Astro Greenwood society said.

The BNP opined that critical projects are left unfinished in the city causing inconvenience and posing risks to the public. "This is an example of the bureaucratic apathy. BNP demands that authorities to complete the drain project at the earliest," said a party leader.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

21ST October: As you know, I am very interested in the possibility of travelling to other planets. I recently came across a charming book published four hundred years ago which imagined people travelling to the Moon in a fantastic sailing ship. I rather fancy this. It sounds a lot more relaxing than being blasted off the earth in some giant space rocket!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Delays or obstacles you meet over the next few days may hark back to something that took place at the beginning of the week. Perhaps you should get to grips with a personal issue that you've successfully avoided until now, especially if it concerns work or health.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
If the tide of fortune is turning in your favour you have only yourself to thank. It is natural that you should still feel uncertain about a number of personal issues, but there is no need for concern. Continue to keep your plans to yourself until next week, if you wish.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Although you find it easier than most to take a flippant and light-hearted attitude, Mercury, planet of communication, is pushing you towards deeper interests, and perhaps more spiritual attitudes. You see, you want to expand your mind, exploring new possibilities.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You're in a particularly ambitious mood at the moment, so don't expect to have a lazy weekend. One way or another you are going to have to put a great deal of effort into both personal and shared activities. Remember, though, that your health comes first.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
One thing you have learnt is that partnership and co-operation is not always a panacea. In fact, as you now know, the closer you get to other people the more likely you are to realise that their interests may not coincide with yours. That's why you have to meet them half way.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You have a deep affinity with Pisces, your opposite sign, one which may be surprising. You may develop this side of your personality by learning from close partners about emotional sensitivity and tuning in to your intuitions. Remember - the facts tell only part of the story.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
On a purely personal level you will enjoy proving that, although you may have remained on the fringe, you have kept up with everything that has been going on, and perhaps understood the real situation better than anybody. You have never missed a trick.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Mercury, the planet responsible for your mind, is edging towards a challenging relationship to Pluto, which rules your unconscious passions. In the first instance you can expect long-forgotten dreams or desires to resurface. And once they do, you'll be ready for the next, vital step.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Life is not always easy, but then it's not supposed to be, is it? But looking back you may find some of the week's events rather comical. The easier you find it to recover your sense of humour, the happier you will be. As the old saying goes, laughter is the best medicine.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There's a great deal of uncertainty and secrecy about at the moment. You may have kept your emotions in check for too long. However, letting go doesn't necessarily mean giving other people a hard time. Instead, it should be your aim to make someone close feel loved and appreciated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The stars are lined up for a sociable weekend. Forget small gatherings and intimate liaisons - you'll be happiest mixing in large groups where you'll have the stimulation and excitement of meeting new people. In affairs of the heart you actually have to talk to partners - there's no point in expecting them to read your mind.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Financial worries may cloud the horizon. Perhaps you feel that a long period of good luck has come to an end. Others may have given up hope of ever achieving true prosperity. Don't worry, though - it's just a phase you're going through. All it requires is a redoubling of your efforts.

THE health department bagged the award for the best monitoring of tobacco control laws under the 2023 'Tobacco Free Youth Campaign' with 15.7 lakh cases booked in the last decade for violations under the Cigarettes and Other Tobacco Products Act (COTPA), highest in India.

Dr Rajani P, State Nodal Officer for National Tobacco Control Cell (NTCC), said, "Karnataka is on top in terms of booking COTPA cases and creating awareness at the ground level since 2019. All district-level control centres have been taking measures to create awareness about creating tobacco-free education institutions (ToFei) in the state." Calling tobacco a gateway to drugs, she said nicotine is the most-addictive substance and there is a need to reduce the cultivation and consumption of tobacco. Citing the Global Adult Tobacco Survey (GATS), she said tobacco use in Karnataka has reduced by 5.4 per cent from 2009 till 2016. She received the award from the additional secretary, Ministry of Health and Family Welfare on Friday.

D Randeep, Commissioner, Health and Family Welfare, appreciated the state's multiple efforts in creating awareness and reducing consumption. With the state government banning hookah bars in September 2023, the department is also taking measures to ban certain kinds of herbal-based hookahs too. Recognising institutions that have been taking efforts to ensure implementation of provisions under COTPA has also encouraged state and district-level officers, he added.

However, public smoking continues to be a cause of concern, he said, adding that hey are working towards strict implementation of public smoking only in designated smoking areas. The state is also aiming to create a 'tobacco free generation' by 2030. They plan to ensure non-availability of tobacco products among all citizens born after 2012, to create a generation completely free from tobacco. The state is aiming to reduce the current tobacco prevalence from 22.8 percent to 15 percent by 2030.

Representatives of leftist groups being detained for their protest against Israel at Freedom Park in Bengaluru on Friday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

38 detained for protest against Israel

Bengaluru: The Bengaluru City Police detained 38 members of CPI, CPI(M), and CPI-ML for staging a protest at Freedom Park condemning attacks on Gaza by Israel, on Friday. The police said the protestors were detained, as they did not obtain prior permission from the police. The members of the Left parties gathered at Freedom Park to raise their voice against Israel's attacks. In their statement, the party expressed their disapproval of the state government's approach in suppressing voices advocating for the Palestinian people. They also criticised the Centre for its support of Israel.

Customer runs over used car dealer

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 36-year-old used car dealer was allegedly murdered by a customer, who ran his car over the victim, after he refused to withdraw an assault case against him. The incident was reported in Pulikeshinagar on Friday.

The deceased, Syed Asgar alias Shoaib, was a resident of Frazer Town. His friend, Syed Mujahid, also sustained injuries in the incident. The police have arrested Ameen, a resident of JC Nagar, and are on the lookout for another accused.

Police said Ameen had reportedly taken two cars from Asgar about eight months ago, claiming that he would pay him once they are sold. Subsequently, he sold both cars, but did not pay Rs 4 lakh to Asgar and kept dodging the payment. On October 4, there was a meeting organised to settle the dispute, and Ameen had agreed before community elders that he would clear the dues at the earliest. Later that day, Asgar's friend Mujahid was around Ameen's house, along with another friend Israr, when the duo was attacked by Ameen and 4 others with beer bottles. Mujahid had filed a complaint and Ameen was booked for attempt to murder.

On Wednesday night, Ameen contacted Asgar over phone and asked him to come to Doddi signal to resolve the matter. "Asgar and Mujahid went on a scooter. As soon as they reached the signal and Mujahid, who was riding pillion got down, Ameen rammed the scooter with his SUV and Mujahid sustained fractures in his limbs. While Asgar tried to escape, the accused hit the scooter again and ran the vehicle over him before speeding away," the police said.

Pak fan stopped from cheering in Bengaluru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A Pakistani fan was stopped by police from cheering for the Pakistan team during the Australia versus Pakistan ICC World Cup cricket match at M Chinnaswamy Stadium in Bengaluru, on Friday. A 45-second video of the incident since has gone viral.

The fan, wearing a Pakistan jersey, can be seen arguing with a policeman that he is from Pakistan and is supporting the team by saying 'Pakistan Zindabad'. However, police do not budge and again instruct him not to shout the slogan. "I've come from Pakistan. If I won't say Pakistan Zindabad, then what should I say?" the fan can be seen questioning. He continues, "When 'Bharat Mata ki Jai' is allowed, why 'Pakistan Zindabad' is not good?"

The police personnel replies, "You can say 'Bharat Mata ki Jai' but you can't say 'Pakistan Zindabad' here."

The video garnered over 5 lakh views within 3 hours after it was posted on X. Some comments on the video called the altercation "silly", some made fun of the policeman.

Rowdy hunts for rival, chops off neighbour's hand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A rowdy sheeter has been arrested by the Subramanyanagar police after he allegedly chopped off a woman's hand, while searching for another man, Rakesh, in Gayatrinagar.

Police said the accused, Abhishek alias Amul, 25, a resident of Laggere, and Rakesh were together with their other friends during Ganesha Chaturthi in Gayatrinagar, when the duo got into an argument. The spat escalated when Rakesh, under the influence of alcohol, reportedly abused Amul and insulted him by calling him a coward in front of the others.

On Sunday evening, Amul went to the building where Rakesh stays in Gayatrinagar and knocked on his door multiple times. Nobody opened the door as Rakesh wasn't even in the city. Amul then knocked on the door of the adjacent house on the same floor where the victim, Veena, 48, a homemaker, resides with her husband and son. When she opened the door, Amul allegedly attacked her with a sickle, assuming that she is related to Rakesh. When the victim tried defending herself, Amul again attacked her and chopped off her left hand. Veena's husband and son were not there when the incident happened, the police said.

Amul, who was absconding after the incident, was traced and arrested. He has multiple cases against him in Yelahanka, Malleswaram, Sadashivanagar, and Subramanyanagar police stations, the police added.

Man gets 20-year RI for raping minor daughter

Bengaluru: A POCSO (Protection of Children from Sexual Offences) court sentenced a man to 20 years of rigorous imprisonment and imposed a fine of Rs 10,000 for raping his minor daughter over three months, from January to March 2022, and impregnating her. Ramu, 38, a resident of Telephone Layout near Srinivasanagar, is the convict. His wife had filed a complaint with Kamakshipalya police station and police had submitted a chargesheet against him to the court. Judge N Narasamma found the accused guilty, based on evidence supporting the charges and sentenced him to 20 years of rigorous imprisonment. The judge also ordered the Karnataka Legal Cell authorities to grant a compensation of Rs 7 lakh to the victim.

Labour Minister Santosh S Lad said the Lok Sabha polls are round the corner and party workers must start working towards winning the maximum number of seats in the state to bring a Congress government at the Centre

Cong, JDS continue political slugfest, bring in Vokkaliga issues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE political slugfest between Congress and JDS, especially between Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy, continued with both sides launching blistering attacks against each other. The verbal onslaught came in the form of strongly-worded statements.

Congress went to the extent of accusing former prime minister HD Deve Gowda's family of trying to raise another mutt parallel to Adi Chunchananagiri Mutt, the religious power centre of the Vokkaliga community, some decades ago.

'Insulted Swamiji'

"Lord Bhairaveshwara will not forgive you. Are you not a great man who insulted Sri Balagangadharanatha Swamiji of Adi Chunchanagiri Mutt, which is a symbol of self-respect for all, and built another mutt..?!" the Congress alleged. "After you joined the BJP fold, fearing that all your past illegalities will come out, a woman carrying paddy (JDS symbol) has committed suicide by falling into a 'communal pot'," the Congress charged.

"Dear Kumaraswamy, by not transferring power to Yediyurappa, who made you CM for the first time, you betrayed him. Yediyurappa said in the Assembly that when the Congress made you CM, 'Shivakumar, do not trust this father and son, they will make use of you and throw you away.' But Congress stood with you for ideology," the Congress said, adding that Kumaraswamy became CM for the second time through the "mercy of the Grand Old Party".

Reacting strongly, Kumaraswamy alleged Congress harassed JDS when they were alliance partners. "It (KPCC) has accepted the Tihar jailbird (Shivakumar) as its president," he said. The party has made Siddaramaiah CM despite the fact that he betrayed Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi by removing the Congress-JDS alliance government in the state. "The Congress has also started a vile attempt to provoke Vokkaligas. Behind the dirty statement that the Vokkaligas are uncultured lies the toolkit conspiracy of the Congress," the JDS alleged.

"Congress buried secularism in the backyard of Nitish Kumar's house in Bihar by telling a blatant lie that secularism was its own. Now they have started a dangerous game called "caste-caste" and have prepared the toolkit before the elections," the former CM alleged.

BJP EX-MLA POORNIMA, SUPPORTERS JOIN CONGRESS

GOP may get support of Golla community ahead of LS polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a big blow to BJP ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha polls, former BJP MLA from Hiriyur Poornima Srinivas and her husband DT Srinivas, who hails from the backward Golla community, joined Congress along with over 750 of her supporters here on Friday.

As the couple have influence over the community in different parts of the state, their followers from faraway places like Ballari had arrived to witness the joining ceremony. Congress that did not have a prominent Golla community leader has gained with Poornima joining the party, while BJP has lost out on that account.

"I have Congress in my blood and that's what brought me back to the party, which my father late A Krishnappa had organised," she claimed, saying she joined the Grand Old Party accepting its ideology. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister and KPCC president DK Shivakumar promised them better treatment in the party.

"I am responsible for Poornima's father Krishnappa missing the ticket during the 2013 Assembly elections as I had favoured Byrati Basavaraju, who eventually betrayed the party. Now, I assure Poornima that no injustice will be done to her in the party," Siddaramaiah said.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar induct former BJP MLA Poornima Srinivas in Bengaluru on Friday | SHASHIDHAR BY RAPPA

"Poornima, Srinivas and their supporters are convinced that there is no social justice in BJP which is why so many leaders from backward communities are joining Congress," he added.

Shivakumar said that many BJP leaders are expected to join Congress as they are upset with the BJP-JDS alliance for the general elections. "The number of people joining Congress has increased. Old timers and newcomers should work hard. Disagreement in politics is natural, but we should keep it aside for the sake of the party's ideology and work together," he said.

"Under Mallikarjun Kharge's leadership, the party came to power in Karnataka and Himachal Pradesh. Rahul Gandhi has united the minds of the country by going on Bharat Jodo Yatra. Now, the I.N.D.I.A bloc has been formed and everyone should strengthen it," he said.

Former chief minister Veerappa Moily, who gave Krishnappa a chance to debut in the Assembly elections by giving him the ticket to contest from the KR Puram constituency and inducted him into the cabinet, was also present. Former Dasarahalli ward corporator Narasima Nayak, BJP ST wing general secretary, also joined Congress.

Surjewala promised me cabinet berth after 2.5 yrs: Senior Cong MLA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SENIOR Congress leader and Ramdurg MLA Ashok Pattan, who is also chief whip in the Assembly, said here on Friday that there will be a cabinet reshuffle after two-and-a-half years and he is likely to become a minister.

His statement gives credence to a likely formula that has been worked out by the Congress high command, where Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is expected to give up his post after two-and-half-years, allowing Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar to assume the position to complete the rest of the five-year term.

Pattanna, however, said he does not know whether there will be a change in chief minister's post or just a reshuffle of ministries after two-and-a-half years. Pattan, who was in Siddaramaiah's camp before the Assembly polls in the state, said the high command will decide on any change in the chief minister's post.

"I would have got a ministerial post as I am a senior, but missed it because of the caste equation in forming the cabinet. I have requested our leaders to take my experience into account and make me a minister," he told reporters at Vidhana Soudha.

He regretted that he missed the bus despite his father being a freedom fighter and mother a former Congress MLA. "That is because I don't have a godfather now. You need a godfather whichever field it is," he commented. Pattan, who is a Lingayat, said he has not been made a minister, though he had worked with Energy Minister KJ George during their Youth Congress days.

"All Congress leaders, including (AICC general secretary) Randeep Singh Surjewala, told me that I would get a ministerial position. I have expressed my feelings to Siddaramaiah, Shivakumar, Surjewala, KC Venugopal and all the others," he said.

"I will stay in the party regardless of me getting the post," he added.

No need for Patil to quit: Priyank

IN Kalaburagi, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj and Kalaburagi district-in-charge minister Priyank Kharge said the CID will probe all aspects of the case, including the audio clip.

Defending his cabinet colleague, Kharge said there was no need for Patil's resignation from the cabinet. The family members lodged a complaint with the police and have not blamed anybody, he said, adding that the government would probe the case from all aspects.

Meanwhile, the opposition demanded minister Patil's resignation to ensure a fair investigation into the case. "I had resigned from the cabinet after I was named in a suicide note. I was proven innocent after the probe. Similarly, minister Patil should resign till the probe is completed," said senior BJP leader and former Deputy Chief Minister KS Eshwarappa.

Eshwarappa had resigned from the Basavaraj Bommai ministry after contractor Santosh Patil had named him before ending his life. That had caused a major embarrassment for the BJP and Congress had demanded Eshwarappa's resignation. The BJP leader said Patil should think if he should continue as minister when a person had named him before taking the extreme step.

Audio clip not enough to book case against minister Patil: Police

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI
@ Kalaburagi

THE allegation by a farmer of Shiroli village of Sedam taluk, Shivakumar (38), who died by suicide on Thursday after releasing an audio recording claiming that Education Minister Dr Sharanaprakash Patil -- who is also Sedam MLA, was responsible for his suicide has stirred up a hornets' nest.

Kalaburagi SP Adduru Srinivasalu told TNIE on Friday that though Shivakumar's wife filed a complaint at Sulepet police station, stating that her husband died by suicide because of debt and no one was responsible, the police will investigate the case from all angles. The audio clip has gone viral after Shivakumar's suicide on Thursday. The Sulepet police station sub-inspector, under whose jurisdiction Shirole village falls, will be the investigation officer, he added,

Deceased farmer Shivakumar

A senior police officer, on condition of anonymity, said that the audio recording blaming the minister is not enough to book a case against the minister. "The police have to get the original audio clipping recorded by the deceased before his death and have to get details as to when it was recorded, who were there with him at the time of recording and who made it viral and when," he added.

The audio clip has to be sent to the Forensic Science Laboratory, which will despatch a team of audio-video experts working in Hubballi. The team will confirm whether the voice in the audio clip was that of Shivakumar, whether it was edited before making it viral or only parts of it were leaked, he added.

The police team also has to find out how Congress activists, including the minister, harassed Shivakumar. After probing all these aspects and if truth is found in the allegations, the police will book a case against Partil, police sources said.

Narasappa, a Shivakumar's relative, said some Congress activists manhandled the deceased a few days ago and he had to be admitted to a hospital in Kalaburagi.

"I need police protection as Congress activists will not spare me," Narasappa said.

Sources said Shivakumar (38) had tried to commit suicide twice earlier due to personal reasons. Though married for 15 years, the couple did not have any children, which was one of Shivakumar's worries. He had borrowed Rs 70,000 from Karnataka Grameen Bank and Rs 1-2 lakhs from private money lenders for cultivation. He was upset as he had lost his crop because of drought, the sources added.

As the issue has turned political, Union Minister of State for Chemicals and Fertilisers Bhagwanth Khuba, Kalaburagi MP Umesh Jadhav and former MLA of Sedam Rajkumar Patil Telkur have demanded the resignation of Patil.

BJP launches poster campaign against Congress govt

Bengaluru: The Opposition BJP continued its tirade against the Congress government in the state on corruption and launched an "ATM Sarakara Collection Tree" poster campaign in Bengaluru on Friday. Senior BJP leader DV Sadananda Gowda demanded a CBI probe into the seizure of Rs 42 crore cash at a contractor's residence. Gowda alleged that money collected in the state is sent to the Congress' central leaders. "We have a collection government in the state. There is no development and even potholes on the roads are not filled," the former CM said, adding that there is a competition among the Congress leaders for collection of funds to save their positions.

Reservation to be hiked based on caste census: Anjaneya

Chitradurga: Former minister of Social Welfare and Backward Classes Department, H Anjaneya, on Friday said the acceptance of the results of a caste-wise socio-economic survey of the state, commissioned by the Backward Classes Commission in 2015, will help provide justice to all sections of society. He felt there was a need to increase reservation for all sections of the society. The report drafted by the Kantharaj Commission is scientific as various parameters like economic conditions, landless or land owners, jobs undertaken by them, and others are covered. He also said CM Siddaramaiah will increase reservation based on the outcome of the report.

New vision groups to propel growth

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE state government has constituted nine new vision groups consisting of experts from various sectors to ensure sectoral industrial growth. Meanwhile, a platform for Chief Information Security Officers (CISOs) in Karnataka has been launched to foster collaboration between industry and government to strengthen cybersecurity.

The vision groups under the chairmanship of Industries Minister MB Patil comprise experts as members, who will focus on Aerospace and Defence, Machine Tools, Electronics System Design and Manufacturing (ESDM), Pharmaceuticals, Core Manufacturing, Automotive/Electric Vehicles, Industry 5.0, Textiles, and Green Energy. Additional Chief Secretary/Principal Secretary, Commerce and Industries Department will be the Vice-Chairperson for all the groups.

"The vision groups would provide guidance and strategic insights to the department. Further, these will facilitate the creation of detailed sectoral plans, identify investment opportunities, and recommend interventions to enhance Karnataka's appeal to potential investors," said Patil.

Meanwhile, Tech Centre of Excellence in Cyber Security-Karnataka (CySecK) has launched CISO-KA, a platform for Chief Information Security Officers (CISOs) in Karnataka to create a conducive ecosystem for cybersecurity.

Ibrahim ready to take Gowda, family to court

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

FORMER JDS state president CM Ibrahim has dug in his heels and thrown a legal challenge at the party leadership. Insisting that he is the JDS state president, he is preparing to stave off any opposition to his leadership.

"I was elected state president by JDS officially and I have not called a meeting of the state unit. Yesterday's meeting was illegitimate since it was not called by me. We are the original JDS," he said defiantly. "How can the state unit be dissolved without consulting me? How can I be removed and HD Kumaraswamy nominated by his father?"

Legal experts said this could mean the party will split.

Ibrahim said he would soon call a meeting. "I will legally challenge it before court. They did not list who was present at the meeting. If they have the guts, let them go before the people and get elected," he said.

He claimed that he has the support of 10 MLAs, who are not going public because they are afraid. The recent October 16 JDS meeting was organised by many minority leaders. "I filed a police complaint for my own safety. I toured districts and helped set up district units, many of which support me. I came to this party forgoing my four-year term as MLC, and was given many assurances by HD Deve Gowda and Kumaraswamy," he said.

He also claimed the support of JDS units in Kerala, Maharashtra and Telangana. Of two MLAs in Kerala, one is a minister. If they choose the JDS led by Gowda, they will be thrown out of the LDF government, Ibrahim claimed.

He said they had planned to meet Gowda on Thursday, and a meeting was fixed, but it was nixed by Kumaraswamy.

Ministers lash out at BJP at Raitha Dasara, play up guarantee schemes

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

The Raitha Dasara event at the ongoing Dasara celebrations turned out to be a platform for Agriculture Minister Chaluvarayaswamy and other ministers to hit out at the Union government and BJP.

At the inauguration of the event, the ministers said the Centre has ignored pleas of the state government on the Cauvery and drought situation despite it being a federal system. "The people should be aware of these developments and give a befitting reply during the elections instead of being carried away by BJP's bundle of lies," they said.

Chaluvarayaswamy said that for the first time in the country, the state government was not given time to meet central leaders and apprise them of the situation. "MPs from the state too did not show any interest, while the Prime Minister has not given us time for the last two months. The Union minister and officers too did not give an appointment," he charged.

He said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Irrigation Minister DK Shivakumar, who is also the deputy chief minister, showed their commitment to present the state's case before the Supreme Court and Cauvery River Monitoring Authority. We have given water demanded by Tamil Nadu to ensure the drinking water needs of the people. The state would have suffered further if the government had not presented its case seriously," he claimed.

The state has declared 221 taluks as drought hit, as per the Union government guidelines and sought Rs 5,020 crore relief. "We wanted to apprise the Centre of the situation but we were not given time despite writing three letters," he said.

The government has implemented four out of five guarantees that are women-centric and has increased the income of the families, he added.

Animal Husbandry Minister K Venkatesh said the Congress government has increased milk prices by Rs 3 per litre and a financial assistance of Rs 5 per litre to help farmers.

Warning that the state would be hit by scarcity of water, he said farmers should take up fisheries, sericulture and agriculture and adopt new technology.

District in-charge minister HC Mahadevappa said the agriculture sector and farmers are in deep trouble because the Centre is not extending support as anticipated.

Faculty members at the NALSAR University of Law have approved the Menstrual Leave Policy for its students. As per the policy, students will be eligible for one day leave in every working month. This leave can be availed if minimum 67 percent attendance is put up.

Opposition slams Pinarayi for 'tacit support' to Gowda

Kerala CM asked to expel JDS representatives

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kochi

UDF leaders on Friday launched an attack on Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan on the revelation by former prime minister and JDS supremo H D Deve Gowda, that his outfit had received support from the LDF chief minister in its decision to align with the BJP.

Firing the first salvo, Congress Working Committee member and MP Shashi Tharoor demanded that the chief minister respond to the former PM's statement. "We don't know whether what Deve Gowda claimed is true or what JDS state leaders are saying is true. When we hear such things, people have doubts about political etiquette," he told.

Meanwhile, Leader of Opposition V D Satheesan urged the CM to expel the JDS representative from the cabinet, as the party has become an ally of the BJP-led NDA at the Centre. Satheesan said Deve Gowda's statement that his party moved to the NDA with the concurrence of Pinarayi Vijayan underscored the Opposition's allegations that there was an unholy nexus between the CPM and BJP.

'CPM confused'

A day after former prime minister HD Deve Gowda said the Left party CM has given full concurrence to the JDS' decision to forge an alliance with the BJP in Karnataka to save the party, he clarified that there was some confusion about his statement on the CPM. Gowda's statement, during a press conference in Bengaluru, had drawn sharp criticism from Kerala CM Pinarayi Vijayan.

Under fire from Left party leaders, Gowda clarified, "I never said the CPM in Kerala supports the BJP-JDS alliance. I only said my party unit in Kerala is getting along with the LDF government, as things within my party units outside Karnataka remain unresolved after our alliance with the BJP. I wish CPM leaders had chosen their words better or had sought clarification," he said.

Bahrain hosp sacks doc for 'anti-Palestine' posts

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

DR Sunil J Rao, a doctor from Mangaluru working at the Royal Bahrain Hospital in Bahrain, has been sacked for his "anti-Palestine" comments on social media.

According to sources in Bahrain, Dr Rao has also been taken into police custody there and is expected to be deported to India soon. "It has come to our attention that Dr Rao, who is working as a specialist in internal medicine, has posted tweets that are offensive to our society. We would like to confirm that his tweets and ideology are personal and do not reflect the opinion and values of the hospital. This is a violation of our code of conduct and we have taken legal actions and his services have been terminated with immediate effect," the hospital stated on its official X account.

Dr Sunil J Rao

A few days ago, Dr Rao, reacting to the Israel-Palestine conflict, wrote on his X account, "#IsraelFightsBack will do a scorched earth attack. plenty will be killed, displaced, Hamas will be destroyed (rightly so), then what? If I may ask? #Israel #Gaza #IsraelPalestineConflict Occupy under military force?"

In another post, Dr Rao quoted Loay Alshareef's post on massacre on October 7 and stated, "This is a very important question to answer, what is a proportionate response? which world religion allows for what was done to the Israelis? No whataboutery will help. What is proportionality? Capitulation in front of #HamasTerrorist?"

Netizens have criticised Dr Rao for his comments. After termination of his services, Dr Rao apologised for his "insensitive" remarks. "I would like to apologise for the statement that I had posted. It was insensitive in the context of the current event, As a doctor all lives matter. I respect this country, its people and its religion deeply as I have been here for the past 10 years," he tweeted.

Mail delivery to Israel disrupted: India Post

Bengaluru: In light of the war-like situation prevalent in Israel, the Postal department has suspended delivery of all mail to the country. An official release from India Post has asked customers who have booked articles to Israel to recall their bookings by submitting a written application to the post office where the booking was made and claim refund of postage provided. "This will only be applicable to consignments which are still lying in India and could not be transmitted abroad," it said.

Milli Council to launch 'Mission 2050' literacy drive

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@ Bengaluru

ALL India Milli Council, an organisation working for the uplift of the Muslim community, will be holding a two-day executive committee meeting in the city from Saturday, to launch a 'Youth Council' and 'Cent per cent literacy mission' among the community members by 2050.

According to the national assistant secretary of the Council, Sulaiman Khan, the community, with help from intellectuals, philanthropists, political leaders, scholars, retired bureaucrats and others has come up with guidelines like creating legal experts, mass media experts, civil servants, experts in the field of micro and nanotechnology, and also focus on creating academic institutions to empower the community and make them powerful assets in nation building.

Syed Shafiulla, Karnataka state secretary, All India Milli Council, stated that as part of their 'Mission 2050' to ensure cent per cent literacy in the community - i.e. there should be graduates in every family -- the Council has already started working in slums and areas dominated by the minority community, and is helping Muslim children in madrasa and Urdu schools to hone English speaking skills to gain confidence.

"We have established 'Mohalla Taleem' (area coaching) centres in some areas of Bengaluru. This apart, children are involved in plantation drives, literary competitions and are encouraged to take part in sports and extracurricular activities. All this is part of 'Mission 2050'," said Shafiulla.

SC restrains Naidu's arrest in FibreNet case till verdict in skill devpt scam case

ENS @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday instructed the Andhra Pradesh Police not to arrest TDP supremo N Chandrababu Naidu in the FibreNet case until a verdict is delivered in the Skill Development Corporation scam case.

A bench of Justices Aniruddha Bose and Bela M Trivedi asked the police to continue the earlier 'understanding', as it posted hearing in Naidu's anticipatory bail plea in the FiberNet case to November 9. Justice Bose said since the order is reserved for another plea, it would be appropriate if the court took up the instant plea of Naidu after the verdict was delivered.

Earlier this week, the apex court had reserved its order in Naidu's Special Leave Petition (SLP), challenging the High Court's refusal to grant him bail in the skill corporation scam case.

On October 13, appearing for the TDP chief, senior advocate Siddharth Luthra had submitted to the court that police are looking to take Naidu into custody in the FibreNet case, despite the fact that he is already in custody in the skill development scam case. The court had then asked the police not to take Naidu into custody.

When the case came for hearing on Friday, Justice Bose asked Luthra if they should wait till the judgement in Naidu's SLP is delivered.

Leaving the decision to the court, Luthra urged for the continuance of interim protection, stating that the plea would otherwise be "infructuous".

Pointing out that Naidu was already in custody and can be questioned, the court sought to know why he had to be formally arrested in the FibreNet case.

Senior advocate Ranjit Kumar for the AP government said the court's permission will be sought for Naidu's custodial interrogation in the FibreNet case as he is already in judicial custody.

"Unless we can show him to be in our custody, we cannot apply for police custody," he explained, adding that the state has no problem in waiting for the court's judgment.

Contending Kumar's reason, Luthra said, "That is fallacious. It's a complete misrepresentation of the law. I'm sorry to say this. They have not bothered to ask him any question since September 9 when he was taken into custody."

The court adjourned hearing in the case to November 9 after discussion.

"If agriculture goes wrong, nothing else will have a chance to go right" — MS Swaminathan

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.
— Ramnath Goenka

FARMERS' DISTRESS NEEDS STRUCTURAL SOLUTIONS

THE election season has riveted the attention of political parties on the farming community. Parties are trying to outdo each other in offering sops to farmers. The BJP-led Union government has announced its largest ever increase in the minimum support price of wheat. It is also giving a cash transfer of ₹6,000 to landholding farming families under the Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi. The Opposition is trying to better the BJP's offer. In Telangana, the ruling Bharat Rashtra Samithi offers ₹10,000 to farming families under its Rythu Bandhu scheme; it has now promised to raise it to ₹16,000 in steps. The Congress has promised ₹15,000 to all farmers and added ₹12,000 to agricultural labourers under its own Rythu Bharosa scheme. Similar offers of cash support, loan waivers, free electricity and higher support prices are being showered in other states, too. These schemes underline the agricultural distress prevailing across rural India.

About half of India's population is engaged in agriculture. This part is facing severe hardship due to higher input costs, climate change, lower prices and, above all, the lack of long-term solutions to their recurring problems. Governments have resorted to knee-jerk reactions. The recent decision to fix the minimum export price for basmati at $1,200 a tonne is a case in point. This decision would put Indian farmers and traders at a disadvantage in the highly competitive international market. Similar was the case of export restrictions on wheat. According to the Indian Council for Research on International Economic Relations, the government's decision to dump its wheat stock in the open market earlier this year to rein in food inflation made farmers lose an estimated ₹40,000 crore. The loss would more than double if last year's wheat export ban is taken into account.

Political parties focus on temporary reliefs rather than structural issues. India needs to create a competitive and sustainable farm sector for achieving food security and improving rural incomes. It is among the largest producers of milk, pulses, spices, wheat, rice, cotton, sugarcane, fish, fruits, vegetables, tea, and some meats. To be a part of the global supply chain, it needs to create storage systems. Recurring scenes of farmers dumping their produce on the streets is symptomatic of policy failure. The government needs to guard farmers against the vagaries of climate and price through longer-term policy interventions.

IT HARDWARE IMPORT POLICY NEEDS STABILITY

IN yet another policy rollback, the government watered down its recent diktat restricting imports of seven electronic products including laptops. Instead, it unveiled a new contactless import authorisation system that requires IT hardware companies to reveal more details about the goods. The change of heart ends nearly three months of uncertainty among tech giants such as Apple, HP and Dell, who produce elsewhere but sell in India. Perhaps to correct the imbalance, India took an extreme step announcing an import ban in August, but deferred its implementation until October 31 after facing an immediate backlash from the producers. The latest move replacing import restrictions with an import authorisation scheme to keep track of all inbound shipments resolves the missing link of having a verified supplied chain amid increasing cybersecurity threats.

The issue of import overdependency, mainly on China, remains. The government's humble attempts to reduce imports and increase domestic production through the $2-billion production-linked incentive (PLI) scheme tailored for hardware firms yielded less than the desired investments. So the deadline was extended to August 30, and that is when the authorities punched producers with a flash import licence notification out of nowhere. One may equate this as a case of frightening children into obedience, but in hindsight, it seems to have had the intended effect with as many as 38 IT hardware companies applying under the PLI 2.0 scheme to make in India. The government hopes these investments will help achieve the ambitious target of catering up to 70-80 percent of the country's IT hardware needs through domestic production over the next three years.

But replicating the production success seen for products such as TVs and smartphones may not be easy and needs time. Electronic goods need an end-to-end component manufacturing ecosystem, which few countries other than China can boast of. It is this superiority that makes China one of the largest exporters of electronic products. The good news is that India is one of the largest consumers for IT products, but the transition from an electronics assembly hub to a manufacturing destination is going to be arduous. Though India's industrial policy rightly centres on boosting local production, creating employment and reducing import reliance, it should avoid misadventures like the recent import bans that only breed uncertainty for investors.

QUICK TAKE

AIM FOR THE SKY, PLAN FOR EARTH

THE first test flight for the manned Gaganyaan mission is scheduled for Saturday. It begins a series of experiments ISRO scientists will conduct before attempting to put three gaganauts into orbit. NASA's space research gave us a range of earthly technologies from microchips to golf ball dimples. Gaganyaan promises to give us a better understanding of waste recycling and telemedicine. The US became the microchip leader by creating a sustainable market. ISRO's preference for Indian contractors might reap a similar benefit in capacities. The next challenge will be scaling up. The government needs to help with support in commercialising the feasible technologies.

Global growth is slowing this year and the next. The wars have set off an unpredictable cascade of troubles. It's as if old prophecies of doom are coming true

UNKNOWN KNOWNS ADD TO FEAR OF KNOWN UNKNOWNS

SATYAJIT DAS
Former banker and author most recently of Fortune's Fool: Australia's Choices

SOUMYADIP SINHA

THE Bible's Book of Revelation, the original Armageddon text, identifies the four horsemen of the Apocalypse. While interpretations have varied through time, today they might personify disease (Covid), famine (extreme weather-induced food, water and energy shortages), war (Ukraine and now Gaza), and social and political disorder (everywhere). Hindu tracts believe that this is Kali Yuga, the fourth and worst of the four ages, full of conflict, suffering and cataclysms. The prophecies may be right.

Alongside human suffering, depressing developments pose risks for a weak global economy. The latest IMF report forecasts slowing global growth, from 3.5 percent in 2022 to 3 percent in 2023 and 2.9 percent in 2024, below the 2000-2019 historical average of 3.8 percent. The slowdown is greatest among the advanced economies that are expected to decrease from 2.6 percent to 1.4 percent in 2024. The emerging and developing economies' growth is expected to decline slightly from 4.1 percent to 4 percent. The underlying reasons include a weak recovery from the pandemic, exhaustion of savings, China's property issues, unsustainable global debt, banking problems, inequality, deglobalisation and political paralysis.

Even if localised, the Gaza conflict, with overlays of religion, ethnicity, territorial claims, genocide and mismatches in weaponry, will exacerbate existing stresses. Asymmetric warfare, such as 'lone wolf' or 'sleeper cell' attacks, may extend this conflict globally with consequences, as 9/11 highlighted. If it expands into a regional and Great Powers military confrontation, the effects will multiply manifold.

Once wars begin—as the history of the world wars show—no one is a master of anything; everyone is slave to unforeseeable and uncontrollable events. While the exact sequence is unknowable, several underlying forces will be prominent. Their political impacts will shape the financial implications.

As with Ukraine, the Gaza conflict will divide the world as countries take sides. This reflects historical allegiances, but often involved erroneous readings of national interests and a desire to maximise domestic electoral advantage. Such events expose deep-seated hypocrisy and double standards over issues such as the supply of armaments, war crimes and humanitarian concerns, heightening divisions.

The US may find itself weakened. Its unequivocal support for Israel undermines its ability to play a role in the Arab Middle East. Qatar, UAE, Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Egypt, which have sought to defuse tensions in the region, will find it difficult to engage with an US that at the first provocation unthinkingly reverts to partisan positions irrespective of their wider implications. Middle East rulers also remain wary of the existential threat to their regimes from American-encouraged colour revolutions and the ill-fated Arab Spring.

The shift of resources to Israel, potentially abandoning Ukraine, raises questions about the US's capabilities. Countries reliant on US military protection—Europe, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Australia and some Gulf states—as well as competitors China and Russia will have taken note.

The potential backtracking on the agreed release of $6 billion of Iranian funds held by South Korea despite no definitive proof of the Islamic republic's complicity questions American willingness to honour its bargains. The conflict, amplified by opinionated news sources and social media distortions, highlights America's political and social splits. Unstable leadership, dysfunctional legislative processes and foreign policy inconsistency undermines US credibility with its allies and enemies alike.

These political factors will shape the economics through several channels, primarily the disruption of trade, which requires a level of geopolitical stability to thrive.

First, trade, which is already slowing, may weaken further. Conscious of avoiding critical strategic dependence, countries will aim for greater self-sufficiency or new arrangements with like-minded fellow travellers. Sanctions, such as those placed by the US on China for dual use or advanced technologies, will accelerate the process. Lengthy supply chains will have to be reworked—a long, thankless, expensive and perhaps impossible task. Emerging markets reliant on trade may find themselves in difficulty.

Second, inflationary pressures may reverse. With recent improvements driven mainly by lower energy prices, the Gaza conflict combined with ongoing restrictions on Russia has the potential to drive energy costs higher. In the worst case, a circa-1974 oil embargo or blockades of the Straits of Hormuz and the Suez Canal would change the price dynamics dramatically.

Other commodity prices—wars consume a lot of oil and metal—combined with the demand for energy-transition-required raw materials may create separate pressures. Labour costs will rise as manpower is diverted to war efforts. The movement of talent, especially in the science and technology needed in defence industries, will slow, creating a skills shortage. Alongside the drive to deglobalise, this will all add to inflation.

Price rises and the resultant higher interest rates threaten a financial crisis. Overcommitted debtors face refinancing and repayment difficulties. Asset prices must adjust to the higher costs of capital. The emerging markets face a toxic combination of higher energy prices, higher US interest rates and a stronger dollar.

Third, public finances may deteriorate. The post-1989 economy reaped the benefits of a 'peace dividend' as US defence spending declined from 5.5 percent of the gross domestic product in 1989 to 2.6 percent in 2000. This will now reverse, undermining more productive sectors of the economy. With government revenues stagnant, countries will move further into deficit and debt.

Fourth, the dollar's role as the dominant currency for trade and investment of reserve assets will be affected. Sanctions, exclusion from payment mechanisms and seizure of assets mean a search for alternatives. While the dollar's demise is not imminent, attempts by countries to establish new trading arrangements, denominate trade in their own currency, establish alternative funds transfer systems and rebalance reserves away from the dollar will accelerate. The likely fragmentation of global capital flows will affect debtor countries like the US, which need to finance a significant portion of its budget and trade deficit—around 8 percent of GDP—externally.

Finally, the breakdown in international cooperation, already poor, will prevent progress on climate, resource scarcity and illegal immigration, likely to increase due to events in the Middle East. Global bodies like the United Nations or G-pick-a-number will lose influence as alternatives such as the BRICS+ compete for hegemony.

Even Nostradamus, whose political and policymaking skills are not recorded, would find such environments difficult to navigate. Leon Trotsky was right when he apocryphally argued, "You may not be interested in war, but war is interested in you."

TRUST IN TECHNOLOGY CAN BE BELIED IN WAR AND PEACE

PRATIK KANJILAL
Editor of The India Cable

SPEAKEASY

THE Palestine-Israel conflict features shocking behaviour on both sides—Hamas targeted civilians in violation of the law of war, and Benjamin Netanyahu struck back by cutting off essential services in Gaza, as if with a tourniquet. It would not be proper to say that the conflict is between Palestine and Israel, because such behaviour may not be acceptable to significant populations of both nationalities, though it is being done in their name. The Biden administration has done worse, shooting down a UN Security Council resolution calling for a humanitarian pause in the siege of Gaza, and choosing instead to work towards an unprecedented defence package for Tel Aviv and to prioritise the resupply of its Iron Dome missile defence system.

What may irritate Netanyahu the most, apart from the security collapse which has temporarily decommissioned his political career, is that the conflict has highlighted the limits of defence and security technology, which is an important export of his country. A community which Israel has pushed back into the Stone Age, technologically speaking, has successfully breached the most carefully monitored border on earth, which is propped up by a $1 billion investment. The illusion that technology is a security solution that just works has popped like a soap bubble.

Tel Aviv advertises its status as the unicorn capital of the region. It leads in security-related software including the zero-click Pegasus spyware, which was wound down after too many governments, including India's, started using it to snoop on political opponents and to drop incriminating payloads on their devices. In the current conflict, Israel is reported to be preparing to issue its new Iron Beam laser weapon to frontline troops to bring down missiles that are too close for the Iron Dome defence system to engage with. In addition, Israel has free access to the most modern American military hardware.

Gaza, on the contrary, is low-tech. In everyday life, it's roughly where India was at in the 1990s. Even before the Israeli blockade, power cuts and shortages, including of essential medicines, were commonplace. Israel, which has 5G communications, has kept Palestinian mobile services throttled back to 2G speeds. That has direct implications for the military capabilities of Hamas, which tailored its strategy accordingly. It abandoned the use of high-technology weapons in favour of small arms and used paragliders and motorcycles for transport, along with basic drones which dropped munitions on border surveillance posts. It used the shock value of low technology and took advantage of the complacency of a high-technology nation.

EXPRESS

> Technology is value-neutral—it can help or hinder in any application. Its failures have shown in the Hamas ambush and Aadhaar identification

The success of Hamas in kindling what could have turned into a regional war once again brings into suspicion the selling of technology as a universal solution. Its promoters speak of technology as if it were a moral, civilising force, even-handedly improving the human condition everywhere. But technology is value-neutral, and it is as likely to create problems for all.

In recent years, India has faced the challenge of technology creep—the seepage of technology into areas and roles where its use is not properly regulated. The imposition of Aadhaar has been controversial because the direct benefit transfer enabler has also been exclusionary. After it was applied to the public distribution system, there were reports of starvation deaths because beneficiaries who depended on subsidised rations were no longer able to collect them if their IDs were not in order. That was almost a decade ago, but now the very same problem is seen in the falling employment rates under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA). This does not reflect lower demand for jobs, but the inability of candidates to authenticate themselves correctly with the online attendance system. Workers are expected to authenticate themselves at the job site, where there may be no mobile signal at all. Their inability to correct errors in the database also prevent authentication.

As a result, millions of workers who used to seek MGNREGA work earlier are going back to working as urban day labourers, taking up menial roles, or have stopped seeking work altogether. The system is generating unemployment and, since demand for MGNREGA jobs is also a barometer of the health of the job market, it is concealing the problem. The real numbers of the unemployed are less certain, and this will affect planning. But Aadhaar, which was originally a voluntary ID, is now so deeply entrenched in the system that policymakers wouldn't dream of withdrawing it from roles in which it is deployed.

Israel, which has defined itself as a high-technology state, faces a similar dilemma in defence. Deeply committed to defence technology, it can't dream of rolling back to the human-centric milieu of the Arab-Israeli war of 1948. At that time, the boot was on the other foot. Jerusalem was besieged and poorly equipped nationalist soldiers of the Palmach did a suicide supply run to the city every day through the valley of Bab-el-Wad. They carried food and medicines in trucks with homemade armour plating, and their sacrifice was acknowledged in Haim Gouri's famous anthem Bab-el-Wad.

The fledgling Jewish state had won that round. Now, the tables are turned as the poorly equipped but inventive Palestinians clash with technologically superior Israel. In this telling, the nationalities of David and Goliath have been swapped, but the story remains the same—technically superior arms are unlikely to decide the issue.

Cash-for-query: TMC MP questions veracity of Hiranandani's affidavit, asks how it was leaked

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

EMBROILED in an alleged 'cash for query' controversy, Trinamool Congress MP Mahua Moitra on Friday lashed out at the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) accusing it of hatching a plot to expel her from the Lok Sabha and silencing her on the 'Adani issue'. However, BJP leaders maintain that there is no scope for corruption in Parliament and the Lok Sabha Ethics Committee will take a call on the issue.

In a signed affidavit submitted to the Lok Sabha Ethics Committee on Thursday, businessman Darshan Hiranandani claimed that he used Moitra's Parliament login ID to ask questions targeting PM Narendra Modi and Adani Group. The committee headed by BJP MP Vinod Kumar Sonkar is set to hear the 'cash for query' charges on November 26.

While the allegations pointed to a serious breach of rules by the parliamentarian, Moitra questioned the Ethics Committee chairman on how the affidavit was leaked. "Chairman of the Ethics Committee openly speaks to the media. Please see the Lok Sabha rules. How does the 'affidavit' find its way to the media? Chairman should first do an inquiry into how this was leaked," Moitra posted on X. She was referring to Sonkar's interview on TV channels, in which he said he has received Hiranandani's affidavit.

'Ready for inquiry'

Mahua Moitra said she is ready to face any inquiry. "I welcome answering questions to the CBI and Ethics Committee (which has an absolute majority of BJP members) if and when they call me. I have neither time nor interest to feed an Adani-directed media circus trial or answer BJP trolls," she said.

Moitra said that she is ready to face any inquiry by the CBI or Ethics Committee. "I welcome answering questions to the CBI and Ethics Committee (which has an absolute majority of BJP members) if and when they call me. I have neither time nor interest to feed an Adani-directed media circus trial or answer BJP trolls," she said.

The BJP has upped the ante against the TMC leader. "There is no place for bribery in the parliamentary process. This matter is before the Lok Sabha Ethics Committee, which is doing its work," said Union minister Dharmendra Pradhan. Speaking to this paper, an opposition leader said that he doesn't want to comment as the matter is sub-judice.

Moitra also cast doubts on the veracity of the affidavit. "Why would one of India's most respected/educated businessmen sign a letter like this on white paper unless a gun was put to his head to do it?"

Calling the content of the letter a "joke", she alleged that the affidavit was drafted by "some half-wit in the PMO who doubles up as a creative writer in the BJP's IT cell."

"If indeed he was to witness all of my corruption, why was he with me during the time, and why did he wait till now to make it public? If he wrote to the CBI and LS speaker, why out of the 543 MPs would he forward the letter to Nishikant Dubey, whom I have repeatedly exposed in the Parliament and the outside, and against whom I have filed pending privilege motions?" she asked.

Moitra's lawyer withdraws from defamation case

JAISON WILSON @New Delhi

TMC MP Mahua Moitra's lawyer on Friday recused himself from representing her before the Delhi High Court in a defamation suit she filed against BJP MP Nishikant Dubey and Supreme Court advocate Jai Anant Dehadrai.

During the hearing, Dehadrai, who appeared in person, claimed that Moitra's lawyer Gopal Sankaranarayanan had telephoned him on Thursday asking him to withdraw the complaint against Moitra to CBI.

Sankaranarayanan confirmed this. He said that since Dehadrai was a Bar member and he had earlier assisted him in a case, he will speak to the latter, to which his client agreed.

Justice Sachin Datta questioned if Sankaranarayanan was still eligible to appear in the matter since he tried to play the mediator. "It's something that you need to answer yourself. It's your call," the judge said, prompting the lawyer to withdraw from the case.

BJP readies lists, many sitting MLAs likely to be dropped

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

THE BJP on Friday approved the names of remaining candidates for polls to Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Telangana and Chhattisgarh legislative assemblies, according to sources. Winnability and wider political acceptability were the deciding factors.

The seal of approval on the names of candidates was given at the meeting of the party's Central Election Committee (CEC) here. Prime Minister Narendra Modi, home minister Amit Shah, national president JP Nadda, defence minister Rajnath Singh, Dr LK Laxman and other members of CEC were present at the meeting.

"Modi, going through the lists prepared by the party after consultation with its units in the poll-bound states, stressed on the need for fielding candidates on the basis of their performances, connect with people, winnability and clean political image," said a source.

"Almost all the names have been approved for the states including the names for the 119-member Telangana assembly elections, which is slated to go to polls on November 30. The announcement of names would most probably be made on Saturday with the approval of the CEC," said a senior BJP leader.

2 Union ministers in fray?

The BJP has so far declared only 41 candidates, including seven MPs, for the November 25 election to the 200-member Rajasthan assembly, and 136 for the November 17 election to the 230-member Madhya Pradesh assembly. Sources hinted that names of some MPs and two Union ministers, including Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, were discussed and they may be fielded in the Rajasthan polls.

The BJP has so far declared only 41 candidates, including seven MPs, for the November 25 election to the 200-member Rajasthan assembly, and 136 candidates for the November 17 election to the 230-member Madhya Pradesh assembly.

Sources hinted that names of some MPs and two Union ministers, including Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, were discussed and they may be fielded in the Rajasthan polls.

"I am not sure, but a majority of sitting MLAs in all states in the final list of candidates is supposed to be dropped this time as their performances and other factors were discussed," a senior BJP leader remarked.

When asked about the possibility of senior leaders, including Union ministers, being fielded in assembly polls, a senior BJP functionary quipped, "Wait till Saturday morning. The BJP is a very methodical party, which makes selection of candidates after considering all factors. But some surprise may spring up tomorrow."

Sources said the finalisation of tickets for Rajasthan polls took more time as the party wanted to approve the names of totally non-controversial candidates, who carry influences among all sections of people on the ground.

It was learnt that Modi also emphasised that candidates should be selected with the coordination of state and central units of the party, to avoid any kind of discontent among the cadres.

In Rajasthan, some differences had surfaced, which were sorted out in the presence of Modi, who is again being projected as the poll mascot of the party in assembly elections.

'Historical inaccuracies': CPI meets censor board, seeks ban on 'Razakar'

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

THE Communist Party of India (CPI) on Friday alleged that 'Razakar', Telugu periodic drama depicting events in Nizam's Hyderabad before its accession to the Indian Union in 1948, is an "attempt to spread hatred through cinema" and polarise the electorate before the assembly elections in Telangana.

CPI's Rajya Sabha MP Binoy Viswam and its national secretary K Narayana met the regional director of the Central Board of Film Certification (CBFC) demanding to stop the movie's release. Viswam has also written to the Board's chairperson Prasoon Joshi seeking scrutiny of the historical inaccuracies in the movie before issuing certification, to "prevent communalisation of the society through cinema".

"Razakar, produced by a BJP leader, is an attempt to twist facts and give communal colours to the history of Telangana. It is an attempt to communally polarise the electorate before the Telangana assembly polls," said a statement from Viswam's office.

> Razakar, produced by a BJP leader, is an attempt to twist facts and give communal colours to the history of Telangana. It is an attempt to polarise the electorate before the state polls
>
> Binoy Viswam, CPI MP

The MP, in his letter to Joshi, stated that it (depiction of historical facts) is a serious matter with serious implications.

"Teaser for the Telugu language movie Razakar was released on September 19 on video platform YouTube and the content of the teaser is evidently indicative of the ulterior motives behind making of the movie," the communiqué stated.

Referring to the teaser of the movie and a song available online, Viswam said that the entire struggle against the oppressive rule of the Nizam is being depicted from a communal prism to polarise the electorate on religious lines before the assembly elections.

Namo Bharat: PM launches country's 1st Regional Rapid Transit System

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

REITERATING that the country was scripting a new saga of growth in every sector, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday called it a historic day and the beginning of a new era in the history of railways as he launched the first rapid rail service in Uttar Pradesh.

While inaugurating 17-km priority section of the country's first Regional Rapid Transit System (RRTS) corridor by flagging off and taking a ride on Namo Bharat train connecting Sahibabad and Duhai Depot stations, Modi cited hosting of the summit of the leaders of the world's 20 big economies, successful landing of Chandrayaan on moon's unexplored South Pole, and glorious performance of Indian athletes at recently concluded Asian Games.

Speaking on the occasion, Modi said India has become the centre of attraction and curiosity across the globe after hosting the G20 Summit.

"Today India launches 5G on its capabilities and takes it to all corners of the country. Today India does the highest digital transactions in the world... Namo Bharat is also Made in India," said Modi, adding that the screen door system on the platform was also made in India. He stressed that Namo Bharat was a glimpse of India of the future and exemplified the transformation of the nation with growing economic muscle.

PM Modi interacts with metro staff at Namo Bharat train in Sahibabad, UP | PTI

Built at a total cost of ₹30,000 crore, the RRTS would cut the travel time between Delhi and Meerut via Ghaziabad, Muradnagar, and Modinagar to less than an hour.

"Four years back, I laid the foundation stone of the project. Today, the services of Namo Bharat have started. When this Meerut stretch is completed after a year or a year-and-a-half, I will be there at your service," said the PM exuding confidence in returning to power once again in 2024.

Modi called Namo Bharat a symbol of women's empowerment. "On this new train, from driver to the entire crew, all are women. This is the symbol of growing women empowerment in India."

Meanwhile, UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, who was accompanying the PM on the occasion, called it a Navratri gift. "...The most populous state has new infrastructure. This is the effort of the double-engine government that today five cities of UP have metro rail services. In January, metro services will also begin in Agra. The ropeway service is under construction in Varanasi."

US State Department's report flags Chinese force accretion along LAC

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

THE US Department of Defence has highlighted the Chinese force and infrastructure build-up along the Line of Actual Control post-May 2020 standoff between the two armies.

The 2023 report to the US Congress says in 2022, China continued to develop military infrastructure along the LAC.

"These improvements include underground storage facilities near Doklam, new roads in all three sectors of the LAC, new villages in disputed areas in neighbouring Bhutan, a second bridge over Pangong Lake, a dual-purpose airport near the center sector, and multiple helipads," it said.

The same year, China deployed one border regiment, supported by two divisions of Xinjiang and Tibet Military Districts with four combined arms brigades (CAB) in reserve in the western sector of the LAC. China also deployed as many as three light-to-medium CABs in the eastern sector from other theatre commands and an additional three CABs in the central sector of the LAC.

"Although some elements of a light CAB eventually withdrew, a majority of the deployed forces remained in place along the LAC," said the report titled 'Military and Security Developments Involving the People's Republic of China in 2023.'

What's added

The improvements made by China, according to the US Department of Defence, include underground storage facilities near Doklam, new roads in all three sectors of the LAC, new villages in disputed areas in neighbouring Bhutan, a second bridge over Pangong Lake, a dual-purpose airport near the center sector, and multiple helipads

India and China have stationed troops along with commensurate artillery guns, tanks, missiles and heavy equipment. The two troops clashed along Finger 4 on the northern banks of the Pangong Lake in May 2020, which led to standoffs at multiple points in eastern Ladakh.

The corps commanders of the two sides have been engaging in talks. There has been a disengagement of troops at multiple points. But at Depsang and Demchok the standoffs still persist. India has reiterated its stand that the Chinese PLA troops will have to return to the pre-May 2020 positions.

Mandaviya cautions against misuse of tech for prenatal sex determination

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

UNION Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya on Friday cautioned stakeholders on the potential misuse of modern technologies like In Vitro Fertilisation (IVF) for prenatal sex selection that can exacerbate gender imbalances.

IVF is a clinical procedure where a human egg is fertilised with sperm in a laboratory and then implanted into a uterus for pregnancy.

He said modern technologies like IVF, the Non-Invasive Prenatal Test and compact diagnostic equipment can facilitate sex selection under the pretext of family balancing.

"These technologies, despite their positive medical applications, could be misused and exacerbate gender imbalances," Mandaviya said while speaking at the 29th meeting of the Central Supervisory Board, in which concern on declining child sex ratio and sex ratio at birth was discussed.

What law stipulates

Under the PC&PNDT Act, the Central government has the responsibility to combat the misuse of medical technologies for sex determination and selection. Till July 2023, reported cases under the PC&PNDT Act have risen to 3,563 from 2,048 in March 2015.

Citing the latest Sample Registration Survey report of 2020, the health minister said, "The data revealed a commendable three-point improvement in sex ratio at birth from 904 in 2017-19 to 907 in 2018-20."

Importantly, 12 out of 22 surveyed states have demonstrated improvement, underlining the combined efforts of the states in implementing the Pre-conception and Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques (Regulation and Prevention of Misuse) Act, 1994 (PC&PNDT Act) and the Beti Bachao Beti Padhao scheme, the minister said.

The latest SRS report indicated that the gender gap has witnessed a two-point decrease in 2020 compared to a five-point gap in 2015. Ten states have effectively reversed the gender gap, positively impacting female survival rates, he said.

Under the PC&PNDT Act, the Central government has the responsibility to combat the misuse of medical technologies for sex determination. Till July 2023, reported cases under the PC&PNDT Act have risen to 3,563 from 2,048 in March 2015.

Convictions secured under the Act have increased from 271 to 713 during this period. Licenses of 145 convicted doctors have been suspended by their respective state medical councils, the ministry said.

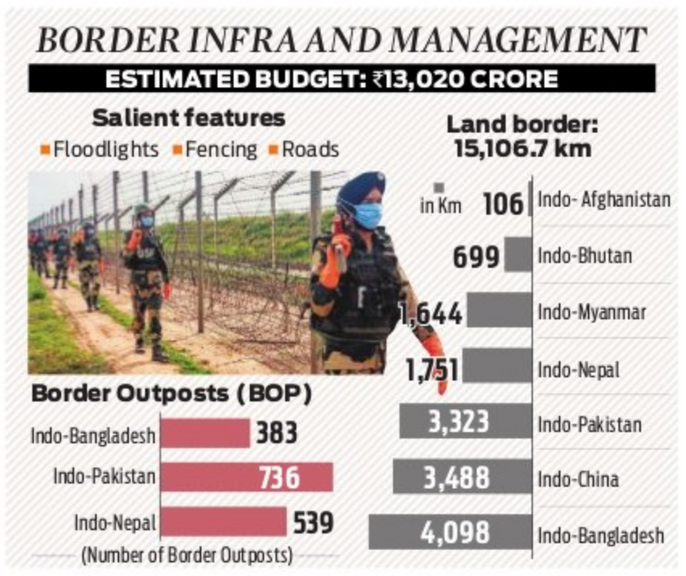
MHA focus on boosting infra along int'l borders

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

THE Ministry of Home Affairs in India is actively developing substantial infrastructure along international borders to address security concerns. The Border Infrastructure and Management (BIM) initiative, approved by the Cabinet Committee on Security in 2022, is well underway. It involves the construction of floodlights, fencing, and other essential infrastructure to protect the country's borders.

India shares its borders with several countries, including China, Nepal, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Bhutan and Myanmar, resulting in a total land border of 15,106.7 km. The BIM initiative, which is a Central scheme with an estimated budget of ₹13,020 crore, is scheduled to continue until March 31, 2026, aiming to enhance development along these borders.

The home ministry, headed by Amit Shah, has undertaken various initiatives to secure the borders, including the construction of Border Out Posts (BOPs) on a war footing. These BOPs serve as the primary workstations of the Border Security Force (BSF) along the borders. The government has approved the construction of 509 Composite BOPs along the Indo-Pakistan and Indo-Bangladesh borders, with a significant portion allocated to the Indo-Bangladesh border, which experiences frequent cross-border infiltration.



The Indo-Bangladesh border spans West Bengal, Assam, Meghalaya, Tripura and Mizoram, encompassing plains, riverine areas, hills and forested regions. The government has made substantial progress in physical fencing, with most of the work to be completed by March 2024. Additionally, floodlight installations along the Indo-Bangladesh border are nearly complete. On the Indian side of the Indo-Bangladesh border, the government has successfully completed the installation of physical fencing along 3,180.653 km out of the total 4,096.7 km. The remaining 916.047 km will be secured with a combination of physical and non-physical fencing.

Similar progress has been made along the Indo-Pakistan border, where hundreds of BOPs have been sanctioned and floodlights installed. The government has also approved fencing work to curb infiltration and smuggling along this border. Along the Indo-Myanmar border, an advanced smart fencing system is in the works, and demarcation has been completed for a significant portion. Floodlight installation along 2043.76 km out of the total 2078.80 km sanctioned areas along the Indo-Pakistan border has been completed.

On the Indo-China border, various infrastructures have been established to enhance security. Road construction and upgrades have been approved along the Indo-Nepal border.

PM only works for his 'rich friends': Priyanka in Raj

The Modi government has reneged on its promise on the ERCP project. It is not merely a canal project but a lifeline akin to the sacred Ganga for Dausa and the surrounding 12 districts.

Priyanka Gandhi, Congress leader

East Raj is Cong citadel

The Congress is projecting the canal issue as a major poll plank in eastern Rajasthan where the party did well in the previous elections. The BJP could not open its account in some eastern Rajasthan districts.

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

PRIYANKA Gandhi on Friday said the Modi team worked for its "rich friends" at the cost of poor people in the country. She was addressing a rally in Dausa district as a part of the Congress campaign to raise the Eastern Rajasthan Canal Project (ERCP) as a major election issue.

The Congress general secretary said the PM was guilty of making false promises over giving a national status to the ERCP aiming to serve drinking and irrigation water to 13 districts. The party is projecting the canal plan as a major plank in eastern Rajasthan where the party did well in the previous election. The BJP could not open its account in some eastern Rajasthan districts.

"The Modi government has reneged on its promise on the ERCP project. The policy, it seems, is to extract funds from the poor while benefiting industrialists," she said. The ERCP is not merely a canal project but a lifeline akin to the sacred Ganga for Dausa and the surrounding 12 districts, she said.

Priyanka accused BJP leaders and the Prime Minister of giving priority to their "rich industrialist friends" over the welfare of the common people. "Their focus is not on your well-being but on maintaining their power and furthering their self-interest. Their sole agenda appears to be to extract wealth from the impoverished and enrich the industrialists," she said.

Taking a dig at the Prime Minister, Priyanka Gandhi questioned, "If Modi is urging people in Rajasthan to vote in his name, is he implying that he intends to relinquish his position as prime minister and become the chief minister? Are there no other capable leaders in the party?"

The Congress leader appealed for party unity and commended the Gehlot government's efforts. She highlighted the Rajasthan government's initiatives to alleviate the impact of rising inflation caused by the Central government, including organising inflation relief camps that offer health benefits to the general populace.

Priyanka underscored the uniqueness of the state's health insurance scheme, which provides coverage of up to ₹25 lakh, a feature not found in other states.

Cong eyeing to win saffron bastions, fields BJP rebels

If the trend of mayor polls continues, then the November 17 polls in Sagar assembly seat may well go down the wire. The Sagar seat has been with the BJP since 1993

A senior state Congress leader

Exploiting divisions

The Congress released its second list of 88 candidates. It features at least five former BJP leaders, including four former MLAs – Deepak Joshi (ex-minister), Girija Shankar Sharma, Bhanwar Singh Shekhawat and Abhay Mishra.

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

IN a 'divide and rule' tactic, the opposition Congress has targeted old BJP families to breach saffron bastions in Madhya Pradesh assembly polls.

Four days after announcing 144 candidates for the 230-member assembly seats in the state, the Congress on Thursday released its second list of 88 candidates (three candidates named in the first list were changed). The list features at least five former BJP leaders, including four former MLAs – Deepak Joshi (ex-minister), Girija Shankar Sharma, Bhanwar Singh Shekhawat and Abhay Mishra.

The Grand Old Party also went ahead with exploiting the divide in old BJP families in at least two seats that haven't been won by the Congress for years. The party fielded two close relatives of multiple-time BJP MLAs in two saffron citadels of Vindhya and Bundelkhand regions.

In the Vindhya region's newly created Mauganj district's Deotalab seat, the party fielded Padmesh Gautam against the third-time sitting MLA Girish Gautam, the Speaker and an uncle of Padmesh Gautam. The Congress' plan to counter the BJP veteran was a conscious decision, keeping in mind the results of the 2022 Janpad panchayat polls, when Padmesh Gautam defeated his cousin and Vidhan Sabha Speaker's son Rahul Gautam.

In Bundelkhand region's Sagar district, the party has gone ahead with the same strategy on Sagar seat, which for three decades has been BJP's fortress. Putting the same strategy into practice against the third-time sitting BJP MLA Shailendra Jain, the party fielded his sister-in-law Nidhi Jain (brother's wife) as Congress candidate. As per an MP Congress leader hailing from Sagar district, the party while taking the decision of fielding a sister-in-law against her sitting MLA brother-in-law, had particularly studied the results of 2022 Sagar mayoral polls, in which despite losing the election as Congress candidate, Nidhi had polled an impressive 58,000 votes, despite the BJP MLA campaigning against her.

"If the same trend continues, then the November 17 polls in Sagar assembly seat may well go down the wire," the senior state Congress leader added.

Bathinda airport resumes operation

With an Air Alliance flight from Delhi landing at Bathinda airport, the air services to and from the airport resumed after a gap of three years. However, the resumption led to a credit war between ruling AAP and Shiromani Akali Dal, a party in opposition. Both Bathinda MP and SAD leader Harsimrat Kaur Badal and AAP leader and Agriculture Minister Gurmeet Singh Khuddian reached the airport to welcome flyers with bouquets. Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann congratulated people for the resumption of services and credited the AAP while Harsimrat recalled that the airport at Bathinda was inaugurated when her party was in power.

Flavoured hookah again banned in Haryana

The BJP-led Haryana government has once again imposed a ban on flavoured hookahs, which were available at several nightclubs, cafes and restaurants. However, the ban will not apply to traditional hookahs popular in rural areas. According to the order, legal action will be taken if any complaint is received about the use or sale of flavoured hookahs. "It has also come to notice that various flavours/herbs are also used in hookas and many times, even nicotine and banned drugs are being served in under the guise of flavours or herbs," the order read.

Credit war over Atal tunnel at Rohtang

Himachal Pradesh Deputy Chief Minister Mukesh Agnihotri recently inspected Atal Tunnel at Rohtang in Lahaul and Spiti with local MLA Ravi Thakur and asked Border Roads Organisation to reinstall foundation stone of the tunnel, which was removed allegedly during the construction. It was laid in 2010 during the UPA regime and carried the name of Sonia Gandhi, the Congress chairperson. However, it took over 10 years to build the tunnel and was inaugurated by PM Modi on October 2, 2020. The deputy chief minister said even if the government at the Centre changed, it would not change the fact that tunnel was Congress' vision.

Gujarat ATS busts ISI spy ring, 1 nabbed

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

THE Gujarat Police Anti-Terrorism Squad (ATS) broke an espionage ring organised by the Pakistani Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) under the pretext of the 'Har Ghar Tiranga' campaign after receiving a tip-off from a military intelligence unit.

The accused has been identified as Labhshankar Maheshwari (53). Military Intelligence officials had detected a nefarious operation being run by a Pakistani Intelligence Operative (PIO).

The ATS received information from military intelligence that a Pakistani operative was using WhatsApp with an Indian SIM card and infected phones with Remote Access Trojan (RAT). The accused posing as Army Public School (APS) official, sent messages to security forces via WhatsApp, requesting that they download an 'apk' Android program called "Har Ghar Tiranga Abhiyan" in their phones.

Investigation revealed that the accused also sent a message requesting army officials to upload their child's photo with the national flag on the application, to participate in the competition.

Cracks among INDIA allies in UP as SP, Cong spar

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE future of the INDIA bloc in Uttar Pradesh appears uncertain, as the Samajwadi Party (SP) and the Congress are engaged in a bitter confrontation. The ongoing dispute over seat-sharing for the Madhya Pradesh Assembly polls escalated when former MP CM Kamal Nath added fuel to the fire by dismissing SP chief Akhilesh Yadav's complaints of betrayal saying "Bhai chorro" (Leave it).

"If Congress didn't want to give seats (in MP), then they should have said it clearly. Today, SP is fighting only on seats where it has its own organisation. Now, after Madhya Pradesh, I know that the INDIA alliance is for the (parliamentary) elections on a national level. If Congress continues to behave like this, then who will trust them? If we fight with confusion in mind against the BJP, then we won't succeed," Yadav said.

The Congress swiftly retaliated, with UPCC chief Ajay Rai accusing the SP of indirectly aiding the BJP and urging the SP to support the Congress in Madhya Pradesh to halt the BJP's progress. Rai highlighted examples of electoral outcomes to support his claims.

"The public can see who is with BJP. In Ghosi bypolls, we supported SP and they won. At the same time, Bageshwar bypolls were held in Uttarakhand. They fielded their candidate there but the BJP won and the Congress lost," he said.

The ongoing rift between the two parties is raising concerns about the unity of the INDIA alliance and its ability to effectively challenge the BJP on a national level. The situation remains uncertain as both parties engage in a war of words, leaving the future of their alliance in doubt.

Friday prayers at Jamia Masjid not okayed again

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AMID fear of protests against the Israeli action in Gaza, Srinagar authorities disallowed Friday prayers at Kashmir's grand mosque, Jamia Masjid in Srinagar, for the second consecutive week and placed Hurriyat Conference leader and cleric Mirwaiz Umar Farooq under house detention.

The police and CRPF men armed with anti-riot gear were deployed in Nowhatta area of downtown Srinagar.

An official of Anjuman-i-Auqaf Jama Masjid (Jamia's management body), said the Auqaf was informed not to open the gates for the Friday prayers.

A police official said disallowing Friday prayers at Jamia was taken as a precautionary measure. "The authorities had apprehension that after Friday prayers, people may stage anti-Israel and pro-Palestine rally, thus creating law and order problem," he said.

It was the second consecutive week that authorities disallowed the Friday congregation prayers in Jamia Masjid Srinagar.

'India for two-state solution to Israel-Palestine conflict'

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

THE world, including India, has a very firm policy on the dispute in the Arab countries. India supports the Palestine cause, and the country stands for a two-state solution. Israel and Palestine living side-by-side with secure borders and in peace, should be brought about through negotiations, said former Ambassador JS Mukul.

He was speaking on the sidelines of the G20 Connect Programme held at St Joseph's University here on Friday. "In fact, Israel had also accepted the accords passed -- Oslo I Accord of 1993 and Oslo II Accord of 1996 -- which came to the same negotiation but due to domestic politics in Israel things have taken a different turn. India supports the legitimate cause of Palestine, but that does not preclude our developing strong relations with Israel, covering agriculture, defence and space," Mukul noted.

He added that the country has a dual approach just like the world, and there is no contradiction. However, nobody accepts these kind of civilian casualties. "Prime Minister Narendra Modi made several calls to the Israeli PM and head of the Palestinian Authority when incidents of the bombing came to light. Despite Israel accepting it, it's unfortunate that Palestine is still under occupation," he added.

Speaking on the multiple layers that international conflicts have, and the fairness that India should abide by, Narender Pani, Dean, School of Social Sciences, National Institute of Advanced Studies (NIAS) said, "Issues of fairness are not something we take event by event (world conflicts). The question is, are we or the world unequivocally ready to condemn Israel for the civilian killings, that is behaving like a terrorist organization just as the way Hamas has been condemned?" He added that each time a terrorist organisation is associated with a state, "they are given the gift of nationalism" which should never be made available to them.

Explaining the India-Canada issue, Pani highlighted that it is one of the issues of globalisation. "Canada's interest in the Sikhs is influenced by climate change. Global warming makes a large part of Northern Canada cultivable, and they need a cultivating population. They are looking at the Sikhs to provide that and to benefit from it." He added that if Canada accuses India of breaking the rule of law, then India should take the moral high ground and regain the moral sense of fairness to leverage it later.

Mann govt to move SC over Guv calling Punjab House session 'patently illegal'

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

IN a fresh round of tussle between Punjab Governor Banwari Lal Puhorit and the ruling AAP, the state government has decided to move the Supreme Court on October 30 to determine if the Assembly proceedings were lawful in the light of Purohit's objections.

Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann told the state Assembly on Friday that his government would move the SC against the governor's refusal to clear three bills due to be tabled during the two-day session of the assembly.

The House was then adjourned indefinitely hours after the proceedings began on the first day of the session. Purohit on Thursday wrote to the Chief Minister, withholding his approval for the bills.

Mann told Speaker Kultar Singh Sandhwan that his government would not table the bills, and urged him to adjourn the assembly sine die. He said the government would get a direction from the Supreme Court and then the House could be reconvened next month "Such letters (written by Purohit) do not stand the court scrutiny. I do not want to escalate the tussle with the governor any further. We won't table any bill until we are sure that this session is legal. We will move the court on October 30 as there are holidays till then," said Mann.

Session legal: Speaker

Punjab Assembly Speaker Kultar Singh Sandhwan told the House that the two-day session being held was legal. His remarks came after opposition Congress sought his ruling in the wake of the Governor's observations. "As the Speaker of the House, this Chair deems the session legal," Sandhwan said in the House after leader of Opposition Partap Singh Bajwa sought his ruling in the matter.

Following Mann's request, a resolution to adjourn the assembly sine die was moved, and then passed by the House.

Meanwhile, Congress MLA Pargat Singh said when the Speaker had already declared the session legal, and he is the custodian of the House, the government should have gone ahead with the bills. Purohit on Thursday wrote to Mann withholding his approval for the three bills.

Strongly suggesting the government to call either a monsoon or winter session instead of choosing to continue with the course, he had said that if the government continued with the "patently illegal session," he would be compelled to consider an appropriate course of action, including reporting the matter to the President.

After SC rap, Speaker sets Oct 25 deadline for Shinde

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AFTER the Supreme Court's warning-cum-ultimatum, Maharashtra assembly speaker Rahul Narvekar on Friday decided to expedite the hearing on Shiv Sena MLAs' disqualification petitions by clubbing all 34 petitions into six. He has set October 25 deadline for Shiv Sena to submit the reply.

Narvekar categorised the 34 petitions into six on the basis of its argument and content.

These broad categories are mainly: first petitions – MLAs who failed to attend the first meeting of Shiv Sena called by party president; second petitions – MLAs who failed to attend the second meeting; third petitions – MLAs who voted against the party whip during floor test; fourth petition – Shiv Sena MLAs who failed to follow the whip issued by Shinde faction chief whip Bharat Gogawale; fifth petition –independent MLAs; and the last – voting against the speaker.

Advocate Sunny Jain, representing Shiv Sena (UBT) side during hearing, said they asked the Speaker to bring some missing things on record, and were therefore told to submit the documents stating that the whip issued on July 2 was issued by Shiv Sena (UBT) and not by another party.

Narvekar expressed displeasure over Shiv Sena (UBT) continuing to approach the Supreme Court for some or other reasons against him. He said Shiv Sena (UBT) says something before him and differs in court. "Shiv Sena (UBT) should clarify their stand on exactly what they want. In fact, they are wasting his time and delaying the entire hearing procedure. Now, they filed the applications asking for some documents, this will delay the further procedure. I am here to hear them out, but they should also cooperate with me," Narvekar said.

Disqualification row: 34 pleas clubbed into 6

Maharashtra Assembly Speaker Rahul Narvekar on Friday decided to expedite the hearing on Shiv Sena MLAs' disqualification petitions by clubbing all the 34 petitions into six. He set October 25 deadline for the Shiv Sena faction, led by CM Eknath Shinde, to submit the reply. Narvekar categorised the 34 petitions into six on the basis of its argument and content.

He has asked the Shiv Sena (Shinde) to submit the documents by October 25 and the next hearing is scheduled on October 26 while the Supreme court hearing is on October 30. The Supreme court, in its last hearing, warned that if it does not see any progress in the hearing of disqualification petitions by the Speaker, then the court may take the matter into its hand.

Advocate Anil Parab said that the Speaker himself was wasting time to delay the entire procedure. "Now, after the Supreme court's rap, he is showing his hurriedness, but it should be time-bound. The matter should be heard immediately and order should be passed, otherwise they will knock the Supreme Court door again," Parab said.

Advocate Assem Sarode, representing Shiv Sena (UBT), said that the issue of Shiv Sena MLAs is simple, but the speaker is complicating it without a reason. He said any person who has no knowledge of law will tell all these disqualification petitions are similar in nature and need to be dealt by clubbing them together and more time was wasted over this simple decision.

"Since beginning, we have been demanding the same — clubbing all disqualification petitions of Shiv Sena MLAs. And now, the Speaker is saying the same. But deliberately things were complicated with the sole intention of delaying the hearing. As a result, the petition will be heard in six groups concerning the nature of them," Sarode added.

CHINA SENDS AN ENVOY TO THE MIDDLE EAST

China has sent an envoy to the Middle East to push for a ceasefire between Israel and Hamas. Envoy Zhai Jun's first meetings included one in Qatar with a Russian counterpart on Thursday as the two countries stake out a position at odds with the American approach.

RISHI SUNAK TRAVELS TO EGYPT FOR CRISIS TALKS

UK PM Rishi Sunak will travel to Egypt on Friday as part of his Middle East tour for crisis talks to prevent the Israel-Gaza conflict. His talks with Egyptian President Abdel Fattah El-Sisi follow productive discussions with Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman on Thursday.

CAIRO

THOUSANDS of people in Muslim countries and beyond held demonstrations on Friday in solidarity with Palestinians in the Gaza Strip.

EGYPT

Thousands of Egyptians demonstrated in cities and towns, in an expression of solidarity with Palestinians. In a rare move, the government approved and even helped organise 27 locations for protesters to gather on Friday. Hundreds gathered in Al-Azhar Mosque. "Oh Al-Aqsa, do not worry, we will redeem you with our soul and blood," they chanted. The Al-Aqsa mosque is the third-holiest site in Islam situated in Jerusalem's Old City.

TURKEY

In Turkey, thousands of people staged protests outside mosques following Friday prayers in Istanbul and Ankara.

In Istanbul, protesters waved Turkish and Palestinian flags, held up placards and chanted slogans denouncing Israel's actions. "Stop the genocide!" and "Murderer Israel get out of Palestine," some of the placards read. About a dozen men carried dolls depicting dead babies to protest Gaza hospital blast.

IRAQ

The pro-Iran coalition also called for a protest in Baghdad, where the US Embassy is located, to condemn its endorsement of Israel. The protesters waved Palestinian flags and chanted "No to Israel" before praying.

MALAYSIA

Some 1,000 Muslims marched in Kuala Lumpur after Friday prayers, slamming Israel as a bully. Waving Palestinian flags, the protesters gathered outside the US Embassy. "Israel is just a big bully, and they are cowards because they are targeting the children, the hospital. Those (Palestinians) are helpless because they are denied all the basic things in life to survive, and yet they (Israel) complained they are being bullied by Hamas," said retiree Salwa Tamrin. Chanting "Death to Israel, God is great," many carried placards calling for an end to violence.

INDONESIA

In Indonesia's capital, demonstrators marched from several mosques to the heavily guarded United States Embassy in Jakarta to denounce American support for Israel.

Similar protests also took place in front of the United Nations mission and in the compound of the Indonesian Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Authorities estimated that about 1,000 people participated in the rallies across Jakarta following Friday prayers. AP

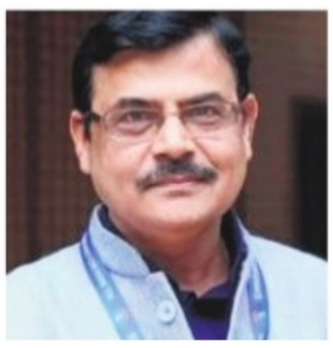
'Can raise tax demand for any year'

CBDT Chairman Nitin Gupta says adjustment of refunds with earlier dues is normal practice

MONIKA YADAV & DIPAK MONDAL
@ New Delhi



BRUSHING aside the criticism that the tax department is refusing refunds by adjusting them with tax dues dating back to 10-12 years, Chairman of the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) Nitin Gupta said outstanding demands must be adjusted, regardless of their age.

In an exclusive interaction with this paper, Gupta said that there is no time limit for the collection of a demand and clarified that even cases dating back several years can still be pursued.

Gupta said that if a case from 2005-06 is decided in the present, relief or rejection, will be granted accordingly. He emphasized that all necessary demands will be raised, and appeals will be processed, irrespective of the year in question.

"If there is an outstanding demand then it has to be adjusted. If it is a 5-year old demand, is it not collectible? There is no time limit to that. If you open a case today, you will create the demand today. Whatever demands have to be raised will have to be raised, appeal effect will have to be irrespective of whether it pertains to 2002, 2003 or 2004-05," Gupta said.

"The taxpayers are given opportunity by the tax department by sending them the demand notice, the taxpayer can respond to that. Taxpayers should avail the opportunity and come with the claim that he has paid the demand or facts of the matter. It could be that he paid the demand but it has not been entered into the system," he said.

Gupta further added that if the refund is smaller than Rs 5000, then the tax department releases the refund, even if there is a demand," he added.

Gupta expressed confidence in the government's ability to achieve the direct tax collection target for the current fiscal year.

He informed that the government collected ₹100 crore in tax deducted at source (TDS) from crypto exchanges over the past six months till September. Gupta further said that tax rates for High Net Worth Individuals (HNIs) at 39% are comparatively lower than those in the US, UK, and other developed countries. He affirmed that the government has moved forward with the new tax regime and does not anticipate changes in the old regime.

Softbank sells 1.09% in Zomato worth ₹1,040 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Japanese investor Softbank on Friday divested a 1.09% stake in online food delivery platform Zomato for ₹1,040 crore through an open market transaction.

Softbank through its affiliate SVF Growth (Singapore) offloaded shares of Zomato on the National Stock Exchange (NSE). Bandhan Mutual Fund (MF), Motilal Oswal MF, Axis MF, Max Life Insurance Company, Abu Dhabi Investment Authority, Fidelity Investments, Goldman Sachs (Singapore), Societe Generale, and Morgan Stanley Asia Singapore, among others were the buyers of shares of Zomato.

As per the block deal data available with the NSE, SVF Growth (Singapore) sold 9,35,69,368 shares, amounting to a 1.09% stake in Zomato.

The shares were disposed of at an average price of ₹111.20 apiece, taking the transaction value to ₹1,040.49 crore.

'Borrowing for consumption good for economy'

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE members of the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) took solace in the fact that inflation pressures are waning and domestic demand remains robust, reveal the minutes of the MPC meeting held from 4th to 6th October. The MPC decided to keep the repo rate unchanged at 6.5% even though its policy statement reeks of hawkishness.

Many members of the committee cited the drop in net financial savings as an indicator for strong demand, and therefore, were not too concerned on the growth front. The net financial savings in FY23 dropped to 5.1% compared to 7% in pre-pandemic levels. While many raised concerns over the drop in net financial savings, MPC members see it as a positive sign.

According to Dr Ashima Goyal, it was household financial liabilities that increased from 3.8% of GDP in 2021-22 to 5.8% of GDP in 2022- 23, resulting in 2.1% fall in net financial savings. "The rise in financial liabilities implies a rise in household physical investment and shows the interest sensitivity of demand in India, with a youthful population borrowing to acquire assets," noted Prof Goyal.

> Rise in financial liabilities implies a rise in household physical investment and interest sensitivity of demand, with a youthful population borrowing to acquire assets
>
> Dr Ashima Goyal, MPC member

"This willingness to consume at the cost of reducing savings is very important because it is household consumption that has been propping up the economy in the face of headwinds from fiscal consolidation, weak external demand and tepid capital investment," noted Prof Jayanth R. Varma.

Goyal, though, cautioned against sudden rise in household debt, even if it is low by international standards. "It is best to restrain over-enthusiasm in good times and thus avoid a crash. Prudential tightening, such as raising LTV ratios or risk weights, would be preferable to raising policy rates more," she said.

Most members were of the view that given the likely global slowdown, and normal monsoon price pressures are moderate. However, they were mindful of the global fuel and energy prices volatility and firming up of some food commodity prices.

"Inflation prints for September and October will need to be monitored carefully to look out for the moderation that our projections anticipate. If we tame inflation durably, we will prepare the ground for a long innings of strong and stable growth," says deputy RBI governor Michael Debabrata Patra.

JAPAN

EXPORTS RISE, IMPORTS DECLINE IN SEPT

Japan's exports jumped 4.3% to 9.2 trillion yen ($61 billion) in September from the same month a year ago as shipments of vehicles, machinery and electronics increased while imports of oil and gas tumbled sharply, the government said on Thursday. According to the provisional customs data, the country's imports declined 16.3% from the year-ago period to 10.9 trillion yen ($72 billion). The decline in imports left a positive balance of 62.4 trillion yen ($410 billion), the first monthly trade surplus in three months. The rise in exports was the biggest gain since March and was stronger than analysts had expected. Data suggests strong activity in the vital manufacturing sector despite faltering global demand. The drop in imports was mainly on account of base effects from the year before. In the first half of the fiscal year, from April-September, exports rose only 1.4% from the same period a year earlier, to a record 50.2 trillion yen ($330 billion) while the trade deficit shrank by three-quarters to 2.7 trillion yen ($18 billion).

MALAYSIA

CONSUMER INFLATION RISES 1.9% IN SEPT

Retail inflation in Malaysia eased to 1.9% from 2.0% increase in August, mainly on account of lower food prices, the Department of Statistics said Friday. Food and non-alcoholic beverages, which has a 29.5% weighting on the consumer price index, jumped 3.9% year-on-year, easing after a 4.1% rise in August. Consumer prices in September jumped 0.1% on an on-month basis, compared with August's 0.2% increase. The easing in inflation was driven by the lower increases in restaurants and hotels and food and non-alcoholic beverages at 4.4% and 3.9%, respectively. Alcoholic beverages, tobacco and recreation services and culture rose 0.7% and 0.6%, respectively. This was also contributed by the incline in miscellaneous goods and services (2.5%), health (2.2%), and education (2%). Housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuels and furnishings, household equipment and routine household maintenance also contributed to it.

CHINA

Q3 ECONOMIC GROWTH FASTER THAN EXPECTED

Gross domestic product (GDP) of China grew 5.2% year-on-year in the first three quarters of 2023, official data showed Wednesday. The country had set an annual growth target of about 5%, said Sheng Laiyun, deputy head of the National Bureau of Statistics. Fixed-asset investment jumped by 3.1% year-on-year during January-September period. Value-added industrial output rose by 4% and retail sales of consumer goods jumped 6.8% during the same period, both exceeding analysts' forecasts. The employment situation has improved, which is a very important indicator of economic recovery and indicates a positive change, Sheng added. The country has introduced a series of measures to boost demand and market confidence in the third quarter, including cutting the reserve requirement ratio and relaxing property market curbs. Fiscal and industrial policies rather than monetary stimulus would be needed to keep the recovery on track, according to analysts.

Adani secures $3.5 bn loan from global banks to refinance its cement business

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE cement arm of billionaire Gautam Adani said on Friday it had secured a $3.5 billion loan from a clutch of international banks to refinance debt it had taken to buy ACC Ltd and Ambuja Cements last year. The two purchases of last year had made Adani Group the second-largest producer of cement in India

The transaction was financed by 10 global banks. DBS Bank, First Abu Dhabi Bank, Mizuho Bank and MUFG Bank acted as mandated lead arranger and bookrunners and underwriter to the transaction. In addition, Barclays Bank PLC, BNP Paribas, Deutsche Bank AG, ING Bank, Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation and Standard Chartered Bank acted as mandated lead arrangers and bookrunners for the transaction.

The financing comes amid a series of reports which have been accusing the port-to-power conglomerate of business malpractices and called the business empire highly leveraged. The Group is facing allegations since a report by Hindenburg Research was published in January this year, causing the company's shares to plunge sharply earlier in the year and most stocks are yet to recover to their previous highs. Adani Group has always denied any wrongdoing.

"This showcases Adani's robust access to the global financial market and strong liquidity position. This reflects our commitment to financial stability and growth. This facility will result in an overall cost saving of $ 300 million for the Adani Cement vertical," said Adani Cement in a statements It added that the $3.5 billion facility marks the continued execution of the capital management plan outlined in Sep 2022 that will see step-wise planned deleveraging of Adani Cement.

1.5 mn iPhones sold in 1st week of festive season

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

APPLE sold nearly 1.5 million iPhone units during the first week of festive sales (October 8-15) in India, according to a Counterpoint Research study.

The festival season, which started on October 8, 2023, witnessed growth both in terms of value and volume during the first week, driven by strong demand for Samsung, Apple and Xiaomi devices.

"Like in 2022, Apple enjoyed high demand with its sales crossing 1.5 million units and registering more than 25% year-on-year (YoY) growth. This year, iPhone 14, iPhone 13 and iPhone 12 experienced high demand, unlike a year ago when the iPhone 13 was the major driver," reads the report.

As per the counterpoint, online channels, which experienced slow demand throughout the year, registered a bigger-than-expected surge in demand, prompting them to raise prices from the third day of the sales week. Both Flipkart and Amazon rolled out their respective sales with lucrative offers that included heavy price discounts, higher trade-in values and attractive bundling offers. In the sale, the premium segment witnessed a significant growth in both platforms. "On Flipkart, the premium segment growth was almost 50% Year-on-Year (YoY) driven by the iPhone 14 and Galaxy S21 FE, while on Amazon the segment growth was almost 200% YoY driven by the iPhone 13 and Galaxy S23 FE," said the report.

5G smartphones experienced phenomenal growth with about 80% of phones sold on both channels being 5G enabled. The ₹ 10,000-₹15,000 price segment witnessed faster 5G upgrades as OEMs launched many devices ahead of the festive season.

Paytm loss narrows to ₹290 crore, revenue rises 32% on loan growth

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

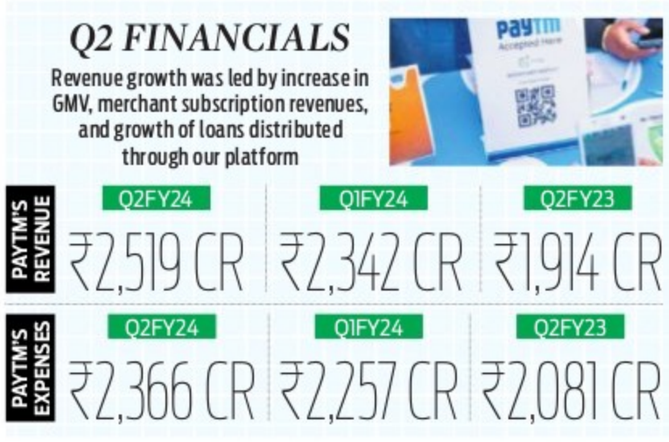
ON a total expense of ₹2,366 crore, One97 Communications Ltd, the parent firm of Paytm, reported a revenue of ₹2,519 crore (up 32% year-on-year) in the September quarter of fiscal 2023-24 (Q2FY24).

Paytm had reported a revenue of ₹1,914 crore in Q2FY23 and ₹2,342 crore in Q1FY24.

Paytm's direct expenses rose 2% YoY in Q2FY24 to ₹1,093 while its indirect expenses shot up by 26% to ₹1,273 crore. The firm's total expense in Q2FY23 was ₹2,081 crore.

The fintech giant's net loss (attributable to owners) narrowed down to ₹290 crore in the September quarter. The same was ₹357 crore in the June quarter and ₹571 crore in the September quarter of last fiscal. Its EBITDA before ESOP (employee stock ownership plan) expense came at ₹153 crore in Q2FY24, an improvement from (₹166 crore) in the year-ago quarter and its margin improved to 6% from -9%.

Of the company's total revenue, the payment business contributed about ₹1,524 crore and the loan distribution segment contributed ₹571 crore.



"For Q2 FY 2024, we continued our momentum with 32% YoY revenue growth, despite some of the revenues getting pushed to Q3 FY 2024…Revenue growth was led by increase in GMV, merchant subscription revenues, and growth of loans distributed through our platform. There are no UPI incentives booked during the quarter," the Noida-based company said. Paytm said that in Q2FY24, across their three product offerings (Paytm Postpaid, Personal Loans, and Merchant Loans), loans amounting to ₹16,211 crore were distributed through the Paytm platform. The same was ₹7,313 crore in the year-ago quarter. The number of loans distributed grew to 1.32 crore, a growth of 44% YoY.

Giving an update on Paytm Payments Bank Limited (PPBL), which was stopped by RBI to onboard new customers from March 11, 2022, the company said further supervisory engagement with RBI is still in progress. Paytm also said the RBI has levied a penalty amounting to ₹5.39 crore on PPBL in respect of an order dated October 12, 2023.

MeitY-backed research facility to promote chips

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

THE Silicon photonic research center at the Indian Institute of Technology, Madras (IIT-M) campus has announced its plans for commercialisation of silicon photonics products in partnership with start-ups and to encourage silicon photonic chips manufacturing in India.

Photonics deals with the science of light waves and PICs, similar to that of electronics circuits, and has applications in optical communication, data centers, IoT, 5G/6G communication and quantum computing.

The Silicon Photonics Centre of Excellence, Centre for Programmable Photonic Integrated Circuits and Systems (simply called Silicon Photonics CoE-CPPICS) is funded by the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (Meity). "We have caught up (with the rest of the world) and now we should leapfrog others," Meity Secretary S Krishnan said on Friday. The center will focus on photonic processors to be used in high-speed transceivers for data centers and optical quantum computing processors for next-gen quantum computing applications.

Supreme Court judgement on MFN revives ghost of retrospective tax

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court (SC) might have revived the ghost of retrospective tax with its Thursday order that the most favoured nation (MFN) clause will not automatically come into force with the signing of a tax treaty with a country.

Experts say Indian businesses may have to cough up past taxes and interest, if they had withheld lower taxes from clients and investors based in treaty countries. With the MFN status, taxpayers in treaty countries can pay lower taxes on dividend, royalty and other fees.

"Indian companies, which may have made remittances outside India, applying the MFN clause (which was not specifically notified) without deducting taxes or after deducting taxes at a lower tax rate, will face the brunt of this ruling which is certain to open up a fresh set of litigation," says Shruti KP, Partner, Induslaw said, The ruling could potentially make the MFN clause in tax treaties itself redundant and inoperative as the benefit would only be granted where the government specifically issues such a notification, explains Shruti.

"Interestingly, foreign tax authorities such as those of Switzerland, France and Netherlands had previously formally indicated their intention to impose a lower withholding tax rate of 5% on dividends by invoking the MFN clause under the respective tax treaties with India relying on the tax treaties between India and Slovenia/Lithuania/Columbia," she added.

The Indian tax authorities had, by way of a circular (which is not binding on taxpayers) disagreed with the position adopted by those countries. Unfortunately, with this ruling, the SC also endorses India's unilateral contrary view, which is completely at loggerheads with its treaty partners. Dinesh Kanabar, CEO, Dhruva Advisors, says that the judgment will result in payment of back taxes and interest for the past, but it would be incorrect to characterize the judgment as being retrospective. Penalties may not be asserted because there were favourable High Court judgments, which upheld the application of the MFN Clause under different interpretations.

Divakar Vijayasarathy, founder and CEO, DVS Advisors, says the SC's judgement on MFN will lead to challenges on various fronts.

Fans barred from displaying posters

The policemen deployed at the M Chinnaswamy stadium premises adopted strict controlling measures to keep fans in check to avoid disruptions during the WC match between Australia and Pakistan. The police asked the fans not to use black dress as a mark of protest, and also not to use placards with provocative slogans.

Fully fit Ben Stokes does strengthen the England team. We know we are going to have to be at the top of our game to get him unstuck. We know what he can do, but we'll prepare for him as well as we can.

After being given a reprieve on 10, Warner cashes in with a ton for the ages against Pakistan

PAKISTAN BULL-DOZED

VISHNU PRASAD @ Bengaluru

THERE was a moment when it looked like David Warner's spell of misfortune was set to continue. He was on 10 when he top-edged Shaheen Shah Afridi towards Usama Mir at mid-on. It was the kind of catch that would have been safely caught ninety-nine out of a hundred times. But this time, the ball sprang out of Usama's palms, slid down his chest and landed on the grass. As it turned out, Warner's story had quite a few chapters left.

Friday was the most memorable stop yet on the David Warner farewell tour. Back in June, the Australian had revealed a carefully-laid out plan detailing exactly when he would retire from each form of cricket. A Test farewell would come at home in Sydney in January. T20s would be the last stop on the train, Warner intending to play on till the World T20 next year. And his ODI journey would end with the World Cup. It takes quite the audacity to plan out a year-long retirement schedule, especially in Australian cricket where a personality as big as Steve Waugh was asked to hang up his ODI cap, much before he wanted to. But then, this is Warner. This is a man whose career was supposed to end five years ago on an ugly note, after being handed a one-year ban post the infamous SandpaperGate. Yet here he still was, smacking bowlers in green all around Chinnaswamy Stadium.

Before Friday, Warner's World Cup was not going according to plan. His 41 against India came off 76 balls and it looked laborious. He looked every bit an aged warrior, shorn of his strength and speed, reduced to sheathing his sword and hiding behind his shield. Against South Africa, he managed only 13. He looked good in the six balls he faced against Sri Lanka, but that ended with a bitter Warner lashing out, after being on the wrong end of a close LBW call. Even his most ardent supporter would have feared that his petulance would be the lasting image of his final World Cup. But against Pakistan, Warner somehow time-travelled back to his prime. When he returned to the fold post his ban, Warner, once called 'The Bull', was nicknamed 'Hum-Bull', a nod by his teammates to his newfound maturity. On Friday though, there was no hum, just the bull. Perhaps that dropped catch was the fuel he needed, for immediately after that, he unleashed a biblical onslaught. Haris Rauf's ninth went for 24 runs, the highlight of that over being a scooped six on one knee. Another huge six followed in the next over off Ifthikar Ahmed.

Warner's fifty came off just 39 balls and his brutality only increased after that. Rauf kept coming in for some harsh treatment. He predictably slowed down as he approached his hundred. But when it came, it did so in good time, taking only 85 balls. This was his fifth hundred at a World Cup, one behind the legendary Sachin Tendulkar and two behind Rohit Sharma.

Astonishingly, this was his fourth straight ton in a row against Pakistan, a run that stretches back six years! They would, no doubt, be hoping not to run into him ever again.

Crowd plays its part as World Cup fever hits city

VISHNU PRASAD @ Bengaluru

YOU could tell that it wasn't just another Friday in Bengaluru as soon as you boarded the Metro. It did not matter where you got on from, you would still see the signs. Blue India shirts were the most common ones, followed by caps with the Australian cricket team's insignia. People with access to neither just wore whatever yellow outfit they could get their hands on — quite a few of them were Chennai Super Kings jerseys. World Cup Cricket was back in the Garden City! No ODI World Cup hosted by India has passed the Chinnaswamy Stadium by, without making some lasting memories. The 1987 Reliance Cup saw the stadium witness India edge New Zealand in a narrow contest. Nine years later, there was that memorable India-Pakistan quarterfinal, the one where Venkatesh Prasad showed Aamir Sohail just where the changing rooms were. The 2011 Cup brought that thrilling tie between India and England, as well as that upset Irish win over England, to the city.

This time though, Bengaluru doesn't quite have pride of place. India doesn't play here until their final game against the Netherlands, which in all likelihood will be a dead rubber. As things stand, it is probable that the fixture before that — New Zealand taking on Sri Lanka — too will have little at stake. That did not stop Bengaluru from playing its part on Friday. There were lines forming outside the stadium ninety minutes before the match. The healthy crowd that was there when the first ball was bowled had swollen to almost 23,000-strong by the time Australia's innings was nearing a conclusion. And boy, did they get their money's worth! David Warner and Mitchell Marsh's onslaught was a sight to behold, every six greeted with loud cheers.

Yellow may have been the dominant colour but Pakistan will have no complaints about the crowd here, unlike in their previous match. The only chant, not relevant to the match being played out, was the regular rendition of 'RCB!'. Bengaluru applauded warmly as Shaheen Shah Afridi single-handedly limited the Aussies to a good 50 runs fewer than what they were looking good for. There was, however, the undeniable shriek of joy every time Pakistan lost a wicket — this was India's arch-rivals after all! And after a rather convincing 62-run victory for Australia, few would have left the Chinnaswamy Stadium unhappy.

Who recovers first: SA or ENG?

After Afghanistan stunned the defending champions England in New Delhi, they will now face the other bruised side in South Africa, recovering from their loss against the Netherlands. A look...

WILL STOKES RETURN?

Ben Stokes has missed all three WC clashes for England so far with a hip injury. After England suffered a shock loss against Afghanistan, all eyes will be on the availability of the all-rounder. "Ben trained well last night. It's great to see him back. He brings a lot on the field and with his presence and leadership skills," England captain Jos Buttler reported.

REWORK AND REGROUP

"You got to let the emotion to seep in. It will hurt," SA captain Temba Bavuma said after their loss against Netherlands. Now, they have a bigger challenge waiting for them in England. It won't be easy but Bavuma wants his teammates to 'not forget all the good work that they done' in the tournament so far.

Lockie's fast & furious moves

NZ pacer, one among few to clock over 150kmph at this World Cup, opens up to Gomesh S on his craft

"YEAH, I don't like watching myself in slow motion, that's for sure," laughs Lockie Ferguson. At first thought, one might wonder why.

However, if you had watched the New Zealand pacer steam in, you'd understand why he feels so.

Ferguson, holding the ball in his right hand, runs in smoothly towards the crease. As he nears it, comes the load up behind his right shoulder. Then, his right foot touches the ground ever so slightly to shift momentum. That's before the entire stress of his body and action lands on his left foot. His body bends to his left, bowling arm upright — his legs and upper body are in almost perpendicular positions — before the ball comes out of his hand.

In slow-motion, you'd feel 'how does he do that?'. In real-time, it's the sheer exuberance of watching a fast bowler. Blink and you'd miss the delivery. That is how fast Ferguson is. He takes the conditions out of the equation. The tearaway quick's mean yorker and bouncer could topple teams in Chepauk as well as Lord's. In fact, at the ongoing World Cup, he is among the handful of pacers who can intimidate batters with pace; who can clock 150KPH with ease. Mitchell Starc, Haris Rauf, Mark Wood, Gerald Coetzee and the list ends there.

Even between them, Starc is the only new-ball bowler. The rest are largely first-change. Where their pace comes from is also different too. Ferguson explains: "I generate a lot of pace at the crease. I'm running in pretty quickly, but a lot of my pace comes from a big jump and snapping really quickly through the crease. I lock my front leg and try to pivot over the top of that and have a bit of a delayed bowling arm from my left-arm pull down. Technically, it is different to Starc's. He's got lovely long levers, generates a lot of pace on those long levers. Then you got someone like Woody. In a lot of ways, he's just so quick through the crease. He's probably quicker than me while running in. There's always different ways to bowl quick."

Just like the method is different for each of these fast bowlers, their stories are too.

For Ferguson, what began as a quest to be quicker than his elder brother Mitch, ended up as an "epic dream" of representing New Zealand for years. From the fast bowling competition with James Neesham on the sidelines of the Basin Reserve Test between New Zealand and England in 2008 (Neesham beat Ferguson by 1KPH), he has come a long way. And so has his bowling.

When Ferguson was in school, he used to load up way behind his shoulder, almost like a throw, but since his Black Caps debut, the pacer has just ensured that his action is getting efficient every step of the way. "I've tightened up," says the 32-year-old. "I think within world cricket, there's probably been a bit more understanding now that there isn't like a perfect way to bowl. I've just tried to become more efficient with how I bowl, which means I'm creating more pace going towards the target. And then, within that, it becomes a bit more repeatable. Therefore, hopefully, my body gets used to bowling the same action and then it's a bit easier to manage. Obviously, if your action is different every time you bowl, then it's putting stress on different parts of your body. So, I think through my career, it's just trying to become more efficient with how I'm bowling and work back the loads from there."

Over the years, one of the questions that kept coming back to Ferguson is, 'do you think about compromising pace for swing'. His answer is simple. For someone who is coming in as first-change in white-ball cricket, there is not much sideways movement on offer. Ferguson without pace is like "Boulty (Trent Boult) or Tim (Southee) without swing." And with the way the game has tilted in favour of the batters, he has developed the slow bouncers and yorkers to compete at the highest level. "We're constantly trying to find ways so that we can have some success. And, certainly bowling quick is a great skill but I've said it before, 'the quicker you bowl, sometimes the quicker it goes to the boundary, especially in a country like India with small boundaries'. Even the top edges tend to fly. So you have to build your arsenal a little bit more with slower balls and it's something I'm just working on. Sometimes it comes out as you want it to and sometimes it doesn't. That's probably what keeps it exciting for us as well. If I had all the answers, then it would probably be boring, wouldn't it? So the fact that all the players are constantly striving for some sort of perfection, keeps us very much involved in wanting to get better and that makes it exciting."

Hardik injury puts India in spot of imbalance

GOMESH S @ New Delhi

WITH Hardik Pandya set to miss India's next game against New Zealand in Dharamshala on Sunday, Rohit Sharma & Co. have a headache at their hands to maintain the balance of the side. Pandya, who walked off the field after trying to stop the ball on his follow-through during the clash against Bangladesh in Pune, had sustained an injury to his left ankle. As a result, the all-rounder was advised to rest and will not travel to Dharamshala for the next game. While being assessed by the BCCI medical team, he is expected to join the squad in Lucknow a week from now for the match against England.

What it means to the team management is the bigger question. For it seemed like the Indian squad was one injury away from making multiple changes and that could be the case up next. A vital member and vice-captain of the side, Pandya was Sharma's third seamer and sixth bowling option, allowing the captain to have Shardul Thakur as a buffer at No. 8.

Pandya bats at 6 and bowls six to seven overs at least based on the need and has made a bigger impact than Thakur has so far. Thakur bowled nine overs for the first time in Pune because Pandya wasn't available and finished with the figures of 1/59. In the first three games, Pandya had bowled 16 overs with five scalps. "Hardik can win you matches with the bat on his good day. He can also take those three-four wickets with his bowling. Any fast bowling all-rounder is a luxury for a captain," former India cricketer and Gujarat Titans assistant coach Aashish Kapoor said recently.

In his absence, if India need an extra batter, they would have to go with Ishan Kishan or Suryakumar Yadav which means they will have five bowlers with Thakur as the third seamer. If they want to maintain their six bowling options, Sharma will have to go with both Ashwin and Thakur, which means Ravindra Jadeja will be batting at No. 6 and Ashwin/Thakur at 7. Should they decide to go with five bowlers, they would rather want all frontline options with Mohammed Shami coming in for Thakur and one of the batters replacing Pandya. To fulfil what Pandya offered, India would have to make multiple changes.

The silver lining for India is that after the New Zealand clash, they have six days before playing England on October 29. The team management would be hoping that Pandya, who might visit the National Cricket Academy in Bengaluru, if the need arises, would get fit in time for their sixth game of the tournament. Either way, the one thing that is clear is that they will not seek any injury replacement for Pandya for there aren't many who offer what he does to the team.

New Indian Army sports policy leaves cricket out, players in lurch

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

CRICKET'S biggest tournament, the ODI World Cup is being held in India, with stars from across the globe descending upon here to vie for the top honours for their respective countries. The Indian cricket board (BCCI) is leaving no stone unturned to make the tournament a huge success rolling out a red carpet for participants. However, a group of domestic cricketers have been forced out of the field for no fault of theirs, right under its nose.

Ironically enough, only a few days ago the International Olympic Committee during its session in Mumbai agreed to include cricket in the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics ensuring its return to the biggest sporting extravaganza since 1900.

The cricketers, who joined the Indian Army (IA) to play for the Services Sports Control Board (SSCB) in the domestic tournaments before making it to the national team, seemed to have been left in the lurch midway with their employer deciding to revise the sports policy from this financial year. The revision resulted in the closure of a few nodes including cricket.

The Services team comprised cricketers from three armed forces — Army, Navy and Air Force - in the past. They are competing in the ongoing Syed Mushtaq Ali T20 Trophy (T20 tournament) and are scheduled to take on Odisha in their fourth match on Saturday but the new sports policy meant Indian Army cricketers are not in the team. Unable to pursue their profession in the Army, a few cricketers have even decided to quit the force so that they can represent some other state.

"None of the Indian Army cricketers are representing Services in the T20 tournament. We have been reverted to our parent units. The existing situation has also made a few cricketers look for another option even if it means tendering resignation," one of the affected cricketers told this daily.

According to the Indian Army Sports Policy 2023. the review has focussed on energising the sports ecosystem in the IA up to 'Inter-Services' level while devising a separate system for podium finish at the international level through recruitment of proven talent as direct entry havildar and naib subedar. The key focus areas included disciplines having the potential to produce podium finishes at national, and international levels and meet the key result areas of the Mission Olympic Programme of the IA.

It also focuses on the reversion of players and special staff from regimental centres to field units and the closure of all non-performing sports disciplines and their nodes. The nodes which are closed include cycle, rugby, cricket, water polo, gymnastics, golf, tennis and squash.

The Indian Army used to field two teams in the Inter-Services Championships — Red and Green. However, as per the revised policy, the standing Green team will be retained only in athletics, boxing, wrestling and weightlifting. The policy says green teams of other 16 fields will converge 45 days prior to the Inter-Services meet and after the competition, the teams will be dissolved and manpower will be reverted to units.

"Cricket doesn't have a Red team so it means we cannot play at all. The Inter-Services Championship for cricket held recently at Palam Ground but Indian Army players were not part of it. It served as selection trials for the BCCI tournaments as well. This is why none of the Army cricketers are there in the Services team for the T20 tournament being held by the BCCI," added the cricketer.

According to the policy, all sportspersons and staff of green teams except those exempted, regimental sports team and manpower of nodes closed down have been reverted back to their parent units earliest not later than March 25, 2023.

"We have reviewed various sports disciplines and how they are helping in nation building through sports. Nodes of a few disciplines like rugby and cricket have been closed as they were not delivering results. But that closure doesn't mean those attached to them were asked to go. They have been reverted to their parent units," Brigadier (PT) Satyavrat Sheoran, the signatory of the new sports policy, told this daily. "One thing is very clear when you join the Indian Army, the primary job is to serve your country. Sports and other things are secondary," he added.

Former cricketer Sarabjit Singh, who played for 22 years and coached the SSCB team for six years, is not amused. "My question is simple, why they have been recruited through sports quota if they were not supposed to play? If the policy has to be revised, these players should have been given some time at least six months to one year before executing the new one so that they could have found ways if they want to pursue a career in cricket."

BIRD FLU

SELF-DECLARATION A SIGNIFICANT STRIDE IN POULTRY INDUSTRY

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

What does India's bird flu free-zone mean to the poultry sector?

The World Organisation for Animal Health (WOAH) recently approved India's self-declaration of freedom from Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza (HPAI) viruses or bird flu in specific poultry compartments or big poultry farms. As of now, 26 poultry farms in the country have declared themselves HPAI-free. In the coming days, more such farms or poultry compartments will be added to the list. Considered as a major achievement in maintaining high standards of animal health and biosecurity, it will facilitate the poultry trade at a faster rate.

What is HPAI and the public health challenges?

Avian influenza is divided in two categories based on pathogenicity: Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza Viruses (HPAIV) and Low Pathogenic Avian Influenza viruses (LPAIV). HPAIV have strains such as H5N1, H5N8 and H7N9, which are a threat to public health. H5N1 is highly dangerous to both animals and humans. It first broke out in 1959 in Scotland's poultry and it's first human transmission was detected in 1997 in Hong Kong.

In India, only one case of H5N1 death of a 11-year old boy from Gurgaon (Haryana) was registered in 2021. However, officials couldn't trace how the boy came in contact with H5N1. Also, the boy had co-morbidities. According to the World Health Organization, there were 878 cases of H5N1 infection in humans and 458 (52%) fatalities in 23 countries between 2003 and July 2023.

As for LPAIV, it only affects the avian species. It results in lesser mortality but reduces the volume of egg production.

Bird flu in India

Bird flu was first detected in India in Navapur in the Nandurbar district of Maharashtra in February 2006. Ever since, the country has experienced annual outbreaks of HPAI in different regions, leading to substantial economic losses. The disease has been reported in 24 states and Union territories, resulting in the culling of over 9 million birds to control its spread. The last reported outbreak was in Navapur in 2021. HPAI has devastating consequences for the poultry industry, farmers' livelihood, international trade and the health of wild birds.

When there is a bird flu outbreak, the rule of thumb is to cull all poultry—infected or not—to contain the spread of avian influenza. This leads to heavy economic losses for farmers and a long-lasting impact on their livelihood. Often, bird flu incidents are suppressed by authorities or farmers themselves as they don't get compensation.

Why India isn't using bird flu vaccine?

Many Southeast Asian countries, including China, have developed vaccines and saved their industry. However, India has not adopted vaccination due to its weak surveillance systems. Indian poultry is mostly reared in unorganised farms, including backyard poultry where thousands of farmers are engaged. There is a high risk to monitor live vaccines as it increases chances of virus strains from poultry droppings infecting humans. Government officers say despite vaccinations in Southeast Asian countries, there are a high number of human transmission of H5N1 virus.

What does self-declaration mean for the poultry industry?

It is good news for India's poultry industry. There are currently 851 million poultry birds in India, making India the third-largest producer of eggs (129.60 billion) and the fifth-largest producer of poultry meat (4.47 million tonnes) globally. India exported to 64 countries last year.

Since the last eight years, India has formed two experts committees in the North and South, which consist of state and Central government technical experts chaired by independent experts. They set a methodology and strict protocols for regular testing of workers engaged in the poultry industry and their documentation. After assessment of documents, government provides certificates, which are valid for three years.

Many countries don't entertain this certificate but prefer to check samples in their lab to verify the claim. It is a time consuming process. Since the self-approval system got recognition from the 182- membernation of WOAH, India's poultry trade is expected to see a record growth. Even with outbreak of HPAI in other parts of the country, these 26 poultry compartmental free zones can keep exporting it.

The Great Hornbills congregation begins in Valparai

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @ Chennai

THE spectacular annual congregation of the Great Hornbills in their traditional roosting sites in Anamalai Hills, including the modified landscape of Valparai, has begun. It is this time of the year when hornbills exhibit their unique breeding and nesting habits, which includes a series of courtship rituals.

Males engage in mid-air acrobatics called casque-butting to weed out competition. The winner gets to woo the female by presenting her with delicious fruit. Males also call out to their potential mates using a loud 'kok' sound. There is a lot of beak rubbing in order to bond before the pair enters the breeding cycle starting December.

All these characteristics makes the Great Hornbill congregation during pre-breeding season a virtual treat for onlookers. Since, Valparai roosting sites are outside protected area and easily accessible, amateur photographers and tourists tend to flock the area disturbing the birds.

Unlike other larger birds, Great Hornbills are secondary-cavity nesters, which means they nest in tree cavities made by other birds. They prefer large, tall trees that overlook valleys because they feel safe and secure. During the breeding season, the female hornbill enters the cavity and with the help of her mate, seals the entrance using their droppings and stays inside for months until the egg hatches. She only leaves a small vertical slit open through which the male provides food for her and the chick inside the nest.

Typically, hornbills tend to use the same nest year after year. As per a recent study conducted by senior scientists from Nature Conservation Foundation) and published in Hornbill Natural History and Conservation, there are five nest trees found to be in use even after 27 years by Great Hornbills and one nest in use for 25 years by Malabar Grey Hornbill, which is another species often sighted in Anamalai Hills and a few other pockets of Western Ghats.

Divya Mudappa and T R Shankar Raman, senior scientists from NCF and co-author of the study titled "Nest monitoring and nesting status of sympatric hornbills in the Anamalai Hills, Western Ghats, India" with another research scholar Pooja Y Pawar, told TNIE: "Hornbills using the same nest trees for over two decades indicates the importance of individual nest trees. Many of these nest trees are located inside the private tea and coffee estates. The forest department and estate owners are taking steps to minimise disturbance."

India is home to nine species of hornbills, of which four — Great Hornbill, Malabar Pied Hornbill, Malabar Grey Hornbill and Indian Grey Hornbill — are found in the Western Ghats. The Anamalai-Parambikulam-Vazhachal region is particularly significant for Great Hornbill conservation. Bhargava Teja, Deputy Director of the Pollachi division of Anamalai Tiger Reserve, told TNIE: "Our field staff regularly does night patrolling and doesn't allow anyone near the roosting sites and nest trees. We have GPS locations of all such trees."

However, sources said a private estate, located close to a prime roosting site, was operating hornbill sighting and photography tour at a premium. Experts say protecting hornbills, which are large-bodied wide ranging birds, is crucial for the forest ecosystem.

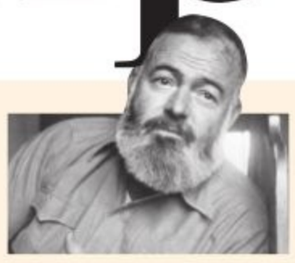
DAY'S DIARY

Novel published

For Whom the Bell Tolls, a novel by Ernest Hemingway, was first published on this day in 1940 by Charles Scribner's Sons

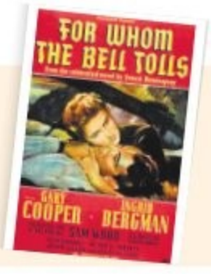
PLOT

The book depicts guerilla warfare, a war of resilience involving small-scale skirmishes over an indefinite period of time. It was a huge critical and commercial success



REAL STORIES

The novel drew on the author's own experiences as a reporter for the North American Newspaper Alliance during the war



ADAPTATION

In 1943, Paramount Pictures released a successful movie adaptation of the book staring Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman

A curated guide to events in the city

PG 2

DESE GOWDA

Friday marked the beginning of Durga Puja in the city. And Bengaluru has been taken over by cultural fervour, with various celebrations kicking-off on a grand scale. This festival, which marks the victory of Goddess Durga over Mahishasura, heralds a time of devotion, festivity, and unity. Bengaluru, with its cosmopolitan populace, is witnessing innovative celebrations - while rooted in age-old traditions.

BENGAL-OORU

From Kathak performances to depicting ISRO's Chandrayaan-3's journey to the Moon, it is a confluence of cultures and ideas at the Durga Puja celebrations being held on a grand scale in the city

Bongodhara, Bhartiya City

ORGANISED annually by the Bongodhara Cultural Association, and held in Thanisandra, North Bengaluru, this annual celebration features distinct themes each year. This year's theme 'Alponik Kalpana' pays tribute to the traditional attire that women wear during the celebrations - the white saree with a red border, red bindi, complemented with red and white bangles. Not only does the decor of the pandal match the theme, but even the idols of the deities at the festivities are draped in thematic colours. Meanwhile, the celebrations, which last until Oct 24, also feature a variety of dances - Dandiya and Kathakali - and musical performances both from members of the community as well as artistes such as DJ Ansh and Dibyendu Tarafder. "People can come from anywhere and everywhere and take part in the rituals and celebrations. This year, we're focussing on a confluence of Indian art. But it's not restricted to one particular tradition or area of India. Possibly for the first time in Bengaluru, people get to see a kathakali artiste perform during Durga Puja. We also have dandiya, which has become a phenomenon across the country. So we have people from different communities coming together for the festivities," says Aparjita Ray, from the Bongodhara Cultural Association. Earlier this month, the community also organised a soccer league as part of early celebrations, as a tribute to Bengal's continued love for football. 12 teams from across the city participated in the league, with Varma Football Club eventually coming out on top.

BARSHA Maha Durga Puja, HSR

THE Maha Durga Puja organised by the Bengali Association for the residents of Sarjapur and HSR Layout (BARSHA) stands out for its innovations. The 2023 event features a pandal inspired by Greek architecture, mixed with Bengal's cultural heritage. The idol of Maa Durga, central to the festivities, draws inspiration from a historic Durga Puja tradition in Kolkata. "It's inspired by an 88-year-old tradition of Durga Puja in Kolkata. It is going to be nearly 15-feet-tall and adorned with intricate and heavy gold ornamentation," says Priyanka Sinha Roy, one of the organisers of the festivities. But the main attraction of the festivities is the laser show that blends mythology, science and art, depicting ISRO's Chandrayaan-3's journey to the moon and the cosmic dance of Shiva Tandava.

BinB Durgotsav, Bannerghatta Road

TOUTED as one of the biggest Durga Puja celebrations in the city, with an expected footfall of over 1.5 lakh people across five days, the BinB Durgotsav, is an amalgamation of culture and tradition. "This is our 13th edition and some of the attractions are that we serve bhog, a proper festive lunch, and there's no ticketing system," says one of the organisers of BinB. "We also have possibly the largest Dandiya event in Bengaluru." Adding to the allure are the flea markets and food stalls. Ananya Chakraborty will be performing on Ashtami night (Oct 22) followed by performance from Kaanya band, the only-women rock band in the city.

Prestige Shantiniketan Durga Puja, Whitefield

The six-day extravaganza, which started on the fifth day of Navaratri (Oct 20), will last till Oct 24. From the Agomoni, a ritual to invoke the goddess, Dhunuchi Naach, a dance form performed by devotees each evening to sounds of dhak (traditional drum), the event preserves the traditional rituals associated with Durga Puja. "Durgotsav was started by a few families. Over the last 10 years, we have grown manifold into one of the largest Pujos of East Bengaluru. But we still retain the same ideals, one of inclusiveness, and most importantly of this being 'Amader Pujo'," says Riddhi Dutta, cultural secretary, Prestige Shantiniketan. In the past, the event has had performances by Usha Uthup, Lucky Ali , and this year features a performance by singer Ananya Chakraborty. The highlight is the Ravan Dahan, symbolising the victory of good over evil.

Harmony Cultural Welfare Association, Jakkur

In order to revive the craft tradition of Shola from West Bengal, Harmony Cultural Welfare Association, has dedicated this year's Puja theme to this artform. Mayukh Patra, a member of the association, says, "Our theme aims to revive, restore and revitalise the fine craft tradition. The craft is an age-old tradition of Bengal. It is the art of making intricate, decorative objects from the soft core of the Shola stem. Shola has been in use in Bengal since time immemorial. Traditionally, owing to its origin and colour, the substance is considered auspicious, and hence, used during religious functions. The decor of our Durga will be a white attire and ornaments made of Shola." Craftmen from Murshidabad have come to the city for the preparation of this craft.

CELEBRATING CONTEMPORARY AUTHORS AND THEIR INSPIRING JOURNEY

AUTHOR BHUPENDER GUPTA

Join him in reawakening the unquenchable desire to explore this ever-changing planet, with its rich tapestry of wonders unfolding even as you read every printed word written by author Bhupender Gupta. This will be the author's fourth masterwork, chronicling his astounding trip to the white continent - of 'Antarctica'. Bhupender Gupta, whose debut book, 'Travelogue Across Hemispheres,' captivated readers worldwide. The author's unwavering credibility is attested to by the outstanding ratings for this initial endeavor. His second and third works, 'Traverse Canada' and 'Spiti to Scotland,' attracted readers as well with their engaging narrations. With a firm dedication to ensure that every reader not only reads but lives via the author's experiences, he continues to travel the world, gathering the scattered gems of our glorious planet to share with you.

AUTHOR VASVI TIWARI

vasvi tiwari, a third generation lawyer, recently came to writing and made a noticeable impression with her second book "House As We Knew It". The soulful title is a tale that delves deep into the family life of the 90s. It explores the dynamics of a unconventional Brahmin family, revealing their distinct characteristics, moments of joy and unique traits. Noteworthy for its beautiful description, the house itself is the conduit of memories throughout the narrative. Her journey to the literary world is as exciting as her work. She came to writing unknowingly during pandemic and turned the situation to her advantage. She invested a few months in her first acclaimed work "The BedfordTearoom. A historical fiction, it throws spot light on details of the Victorian life, revolving around a heartwarming love story.

AUTHOR VISHESH DUBEY

"Author Vishesh Dubey's simple style of writing manages to connect with every reader." - ANI, 24th April 2023. Vishesh Dubey is Amazon bestselling author of his first fiction novel, The Last 'Sutta'. Simple, gripping and relatable, is what most of the readers have said about his writing style. Vishesh's journey to becoming an author is inspiring as well. He always had a keen interest in writing; however, his job and family responsibilities never allowed him to think about publishing a book. However, failures at both personal and professional level gave him a reason to pick up writing again and chase his dreams.

AUTHOR BOMI DOCTOR

The Leadership Handbook by Bomi Doctor, the only essential guide you need to strategically improve your leadership abilities and stay current, relevant, and effective in the modern workplace. There are several types of leaders, yet essentially there are two variants, one who holds the designation of a leader and the other whose job demands leadership qualities. You do not need to have a title to be a leader. A good leader is one who rises above titles, status and wielding power and develops leaders under him. Written by an Indian author who has worn out the soles of his shoes in the Indian corporate world, this book defines authentic leadership in the context of today's world. Distinguishing between a leader and an authentic leader, the book focuses on what it takes to be the leader you have always aspired to be. Nudging you to take a deeper look at yourself, the book vows to assist you in assessing your capabilities to find your roadmap to success. The author's guiding principle - to help the reader carve out a new path in pursuit of their metamorphoses into quality leaders.

KARTIK MUKHERJEE'S ELECTRIFYING TEDX TALK INSPIRES THE NEXT GENERATION

The speaker's message revolves around the profound understanding of life's root issues, a concept that holds the key to effortlessly resolving our most significant challenges, without engaging in laborious tasks. He emphasises the significance of the word "HOW" over "WHY" as the critical element for achieving success in any aspect of life. The fundamental divergence between a successful individual and a failure lies in their grasp of "HOW" – one comprehends the precise steps necessary to achieve desired outcomes, while the other fumbles through attempts without a clear strategy. Acharaya Kartik Mukherjee sheds light on the transformative power of moderation, illustrating how it safeguards us from veering into extremes, thereby enabling a harmonious life and holistic development. Furthermore, the speaker underscores the importance of happiness in our daily lives, highlighting its potential to positively influence overall productivity. Acharaya Kartik, with an infectious smile, raises adrenaline levels in the room by proclaiming, "IF I CAN DO IT, YOU CAN ALSO DO IT," leaving the audience with an enduring sense of empowerment and motivation.

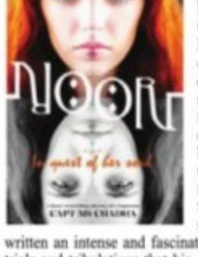
CAPT MS CHADHA'S NOOR IS AN INSPIRING TALE WITH A TWIST

Capt. Manmeet Singh Chadha is an acclaimed author, who writes across genres. Noor, his first offering, is a heart-warming tale of a little girl's journey towards success, love and self-discovery. Her journey is filled with poignant moments, heartache, and triumphs that will tug at your heartstrings. The author's evocative prose and vivid descriptions bring the story to life, immersing readers in a symphony of emotions. 'Noor' is a beautiful testament to the universal language of music and the courage it takes to embrace our true selves." Capt Chadha, has written an intense and fascinating story, weaving in the trials and tribulations that his protagonist Noor faces in her quest to find her place in the sun. Music, perhaps, being her biggest saviour, whenever she immerses herself in it forgetting her pain. It is also a valuable lesson to learn for not falling apart when going gets rough, losing your concience, which his character Wazir fails and falls into disrepute. Noor on the other hand always remains positive and resolute. A page turner all the way conspiring, yet inspiring. Launching soon in Bengali, Hindi & Urdu.The book has won various awards like Literoma 2023 & Munshi Premchand award for Literature 2023.



STOP SEEKING APPROVAL FROM OTHERS : TEDX SPEAKER MALLIKA SINGHANIA

Mallika Singhania was the chief speaker in TEDx Kolkata that was organised on 1 Oct 2023. She expressed her views on the theme of 'Learning to embrace'. She is a fashionista and her dedication to the fashion industry has earned her great feats. As a keynote speaker in TEDx Kolkata she said, "When I was young, the fashion industry and society asked girls to be bone-thin, and I was not. I gave in to exercise and dieting, but not in a healthy way. Along with the weight, I lost her friends & my true self and when I finally became a size zero, others started calling me ugly."

She went to UT Austin & Northwestern University. Those years taught her that she needed to stop looking for external validation and listen to what she wanted. After getting married and having kids, she thought entering the entertainment industry would be impossible but she found ways to put herself out there and she published 8 shopping guides, got a weekly column & so much more. Eventually, she got in front of a camera and became an influencer. Her true self had finally won.

#METOO

WE are living in a world dangerously poised on the brink. The images of perpetrators and victims have become blurred. One man's terrorist is another man's freedom fighter. But, the residual fallout has always been "the woman".

I was born a privileged child into a warm, stable and protected home replete with nannies, drivers, watchmen, etc. I attended high-profile schools and our homes were always in 'safe' and upmarket localities. I was never left alone at the mercy of the staff and I was encouraged to talk and ask questions. My voice was always heard and my parents loved and cherished me.

But, (there is always a 'but' isn't there?) I was still vulnerable and prone to abuse. Why? Perhaps because I was a girl-child.

As a parent, I still seethe with anger and disgust and sometimes I still wake up bathed in cold sweat.

I was always a plump good looking young-un and since I looked older than my tiny friends, I was targeted everywhere, in movie halls, public spaces, at home and even at school. Arrrgh!

As a child I thought it was my fault. Somehow I felt I 'made' them do and say these unspeakable things to me. Depraved men flashing their genitals at me, older men I viewed as uncle variety trying to grope me. I loathed my body and kept putting on weight. If I was unattractive then perhaps I would be safe.

There was a conspiracy of silence and I learned very young...shhh! If I didn't speak up, it would go away. Even a doctor for heaven sake! To him I was his prey.

Many of my male friends think I am too harsh on them and I 'paint them all with one brush'. But, if you remain silent, then you too are culpable. Silence can never be golden...it is a permission. Eve Ensler said 'men have been taught to distance themselves from love and vulnerability because it has been viewed as a sign of weakness. Now, their tears have hardened into bullets to wage war.'

I remember falling in love with my husband after years because he never ever tried to grope or force himself on me.

I prayed so hard for a daughter, and when she was born I held her close to my breast and fiercely swore that I would protect her. I did...both my daughter and my son.

I remember being on a panel of speakers with a senior IPS officer who told a crowd of over 200 people, how women are responsible for their own safety, how we must wear 'proper cloths' and how we must always be accompanied by a male member of our species!! I remember telling him that 'all' the women present...'all' of them, including his grandmother, mother sister and daughter, were victims of physical and mental abuse at some time or the other. I remember his face turning ashen to think of how his family could also be vulnerable.

Just before my mom died, Rubi, the strong outspoken totally in command woman put her head on her mom's lap and cried non-stop for four hours blurting out all her pain. Mom cried with me, cupping my face, stroking my hair, mumbling she didn't know and why I hadn't told her before.

I speak and work for women for an equal place and equal respect on our planet.

I know the Universe has gifted me the power of articulation so I continuously strive along with my sisters to put an end to this abomination.

I have thought this one out... strong, erudite and emancipated women also CRY!.

The romantic drama will now see its release on November 17

Release date of Sapta Sagaradaache Ello - Side B rescheduled again

CE FEATURES

THE release date for the much-anticipated Sapta Sagaradaache Ello - Side B, directed by Hemanth M Rao and featuring Rakshith Shetty, Rukmini Vasanth, and Chaitra Achar in the lead roles, has been rescheduled once again. Initially planned for October 20, it was first postponed to October 27. However, the final release date has now been confirmed as November 17. The reason behind this shift is the decision to simultaneously release the film in multiple languages, unlike Side A, which was initially released only in Kannada and later in other languages.

Sapta Sagaradaache Ello - Side A is currently available for streaming on Prime Video in five languages and has received an overwhelmingly positive response from viewers across different regions. This positive feedback has contributed to opting for a multi-language release in theatres.

Sapta Sagaradaache Ello - Side B, produced by Paramvah Studios, also features Achyuth Kumar, Pavitra Lokesh, Avinash, Sharath, Lohithaswa, Ramesh Indira, and Gopal Krishna Deshpande in supporting roles. The musical score is composed by Charan Raj, with Advaitha Gurumurthy serving as the cinematographer.

BLACK COBRAS OF WESTERN GHATS PLAY A VITAL ROLE IN THIMMANNA MOTTEGALU

CE FEATURES

RAKSHITH Thirthahalli 's upcoming directorial, Thimmanna Mottegalu, produced by Adarsh Iyengar's Srikrishna Productions, has obtained a U certificate from the Censor Board. The cast includes Keshava Guttalike from Shringeri, Suchendra Prasad, Ashika Somashekar, Shringeri Ramanna, Raghuramnakoppa, Pragathi Prabhu, Master Harsha, and Vinay Kanive.

The film's cinematography is handled by Praveen S Chayagrakshana and captures the essence of picturesque locations in Chikmagalur and Shivammogga within the Western Ghats. Makers reveal that the elusive presence of black cobras in the Western Ghats plays a vital role in the film's storyline.

Currently, the production team is actively preparing for a theatrical release shortly after unveiling the teaser.

SHIVARAJKUMAR'S ELECTRIFYING PERFORMANCE HOLDS THE FORT IN SRINI'S MULTIVERSE

A SHARADHAA

THE terms spin-offs and multiverse are gradually making their mark in Indian cinema, and it is making its presence felt in the Kannada film industry with the introduction of Ghost. This cinematic endeavour, driven by director Srini, is a progressive step forward. More so, the inclusion of Shivarajkumar, who brings with him a strong fan base and an even stronger inclination to experiment, elevates the project.

Undertaking a project of this magnitude comes with its fair share of risks, with outcomes never guaranteed. There are a multitude of factors, including commercial viability, technical prowess, authenticity, and the collaboration of every team member, which must align harmoniously to make it work.

Ghost encompasses all the elements that a commercial film requires, but it does so on an ambitious scale, with a focus on plot-driven characters, technical excellence, and a deep respect for cinematic art. It's a departure from the conventional formula, with the omission of songs, a traditional heroine, and the standard template. The question arises: Has Ghost, without all these, managed to fulfill every aspect of its unique approach, and does it offer more?

Now, let's delve into the storyline. The film introduces a rare concept in cinema – prison privatisation becomes the central theme of this heist thriller. When former CBI agent Vamana (Prashanth Narayanan) is taken hostage, ACP Chengappa (Jayaram) is called in to resolve the crisis. The mastermind behind this predicament is Dalavayi Muddanna (Shivarajkumar). Known as 'Big Daddy' in criminal circles, Dalavayi is a feared underworld kingpin with a history involving Chengappa. The motive behind Dalavayi's attack on the prison becomes the core mystery that Chengappa must unravel. Why has the prison been hijacked? Why have the inmates become his allies? What is Dalavayi's new identity? Is he the Ghost? These questions slowly unfurl, gradually exposing the layers of this enigma. The film concludes by hinting at the arrival of Dalavayi's son in the sequel.

GHOST
Cast: Shivarajkumar, Jayaram, Anupam Kher, Dattanna, Prashanth Narayanan, and Archana Jois
Director: Srini
RATING 3.5/5

At its outset, Ghost may be perceived as a thrilling action spectacle, particularly in its initial portrayal as a hijacking narrative. The film maintains its focus on action-packed thriller elements, with the heist holding the narrative together. The first half guides viewers through Chengappa's perspective and sets the stage for a revelation. The puzzle pieces seamlessly fall into place in the second part, delivering a captivating storyline. The film's thrilling, audacious elements, like the daring prison escape, may seem far-fetched, but they are skillfully executed to stir emotions. Even when a statue (Dr. Rajkumar) unexpectedly helps, questions about believability matter less.

Shivarajkumar's charismatic portrayal as Dalavayi or what he calls 'Ghost' retains his enduring mass appeal with sophistication and grandeur, avoiding unnecessary extravagance. He engages in intense gunplay and delivers powerful dialogues, which is limited in the first half, but his presence on screen remains engaging, which only gets stronger post-intermission.

Jayaram is a valuable addition to the film, playing the role of a CBI officer, and he commands a commendable on-screen presence. His extended duration is justified. Anupam Kher adds a final touch of excellence while his character holds the promise of further development in the sequel. Archana Jois, in the role of a journalist, and Prashanth Narayanan, a former CBI officer, play pivotal roles in connecting the dots of the narrative. Dattanna has a key role to play along with some fresh faces showcasing their talents. The existence of a mouse in the film gets an unusual placement, and it's something to take note of. Srini's multiverse, featuring himself as Lawyer Mahesh Das from Birbal, makes a brief appearance, setting the stage for future intrigue.

The film eventually reveals itself as part of Srini's expanding Cinematic Universe, setting the stage for a potential multi-starrer and opening doors to various cinematic ventures in the future.

Ghost also explores technological advancements, including the de-aging of Shivarajkumar, which adds an element of surprise. However, certain loopholes in this de-aged version require correction, especially if it becomes significant in the sequel.

The heist emerges as an ambitious and captivating production that transcends the confines of traditional commercial cinema, also introducing the concept of the multiverse in Kannada cinema. It possesses a distinct voice within the commercial framework and is a testament to its strong technical mastery—Mahendra Simha's visionary cinematography and Arjun Janya's evocative music enhance the overall cinematic experience.

In conclusion, Ghost offers thrilling moments, with Shivarajkumar's exceptional performance, along with the rest of the cast, elevating the viewing experience. It's unquestionably a film worth watching, and the anticipation of a sequel promises even more excitement.

A roar settles into a whimper

SUDHIR SRINIVASAN

POOR Parthiban (Vijay) can't catch a break, with each of his new shirts getting destroyed in unique ways. It's a running gag almost. It's also why Parthiban's wife Sathya (Trisha) picks up an argument with him when we first meet them. The Lokesh universe isn't known for these cutesy conversations; foremost among the joys is how he sets up and executes action blocks.

Parthiban, as you can imagine, does plenty of fighting in this film, and my most favourite is the coffee-shop fight at the beginning. Parthiban and his daughter are having this goofy moment while the bad guys enter the cafe. Lokesh takes his time. He gets Parthiban to dance a bit; he lets the scene breathe and when mayhem comes calling, it's fantastic to behold.

There are plenty of joys to be found in the first half of this film that begins by acknowledging the influence of David Cronenberg's A History of Violence (2005). This is a familiar template for those of us raised on the charms of hero-centric cinema. Is the protagonist pretending to be a family man? Does he have a history of violence? When will the crowd-pleasing transformation occur? Where this film (and A History of Violence) differs from, say, a Baasha or a Theri, is how the protagonist seems almost to be suffering from self-delusion. And yet, I'm not sure Leo, the film, shows as much interest as, A History of Violence, in digging into the psychological ramifications of this exercise—or in its effect on those around Parthiban.

In this enjoyable first half, Lokesh Kanagaraj breaks many rules of the hero-centric film format. There's no introduction song. There's no fuss made over showing us Vijay and Trisha for the first time. It feels like Vijay is well and truly invested in playing this almost crazy man, with all his jagged edges. He's screaming, crying, pleading... Sometimes, he's doing all three—and to himself. It's a complex role, and Vijay is great in it.

And yet, when the film ended, I was left with questions. If this is 100 % a Lokesh film, is he perhaps a prisoner of the standards his own previous excellence has set? The song, "Naa Ready", is great. And yet, I wondered if the time could not have been better spent. How about utilising it to help us understand Antony Das (Sanjay Dutt) and Harold Das (Arjun) better? Who are these two really, apart from their relationship to Leo? I mean, who are they really and why are they the way they are? The writing of these two antagonists is among the biggest issues in Leo. And of course, it would have helped to write the women better too. It doesn't feel like Sathya (Trisha) brings a whole lot to the film—and as for the other surprise inclusion, there's even less impact.

The best parts of Leo are when it feels like the film is having a lot of fun—like Parthiban, after losing control of himself each time, sitting in the police station to hilarious effect, while the rest of the world, including the cop Joshy (a likeable GVM), mops up after him. Or when Parthiban casually suggests the name Subramani to a hyena. And oh, a pat on the back for everyone involved in putting the hyena scenes together—it's lifelike and did not once threaten my suspension of disbelief. Dwelling on the focus on this creature, it seemed to me like the hyena was something of a spirit animal for Parthiban. He too is removed from his pack, his instincts all wrong in a different setting. He too is in danger and is frightened, he too is snarling and can cause great damage to aggressors.

But these layers aside, I do think the film should have done better in exploring the dichotomy of this mass-murdering maniac whose heart beats so dearly for animals. It's an interesting character trait, but it leaves so many questions. I was also not quite sure about Leo's position on drugs. If it changed, when did it? How strongly does he feel about it, as opposed to, say, a Vikram? In its eagerness to create stunt sequences, one or two of which are oddly generic for a Lokesh Kanagaraj film, Leo leaves some of these important spaces unattended.

When the action works though, it's great. There is an urgency to the action that's rare in our cinema, a reality to it that can leave the weak-hearted shaken. Lokesh ensures that the camera, like the eagle, is busy flying around, giving us unusual perspectives of the action. You see this in a car chase too, with the lights in the mist bringing a ghostly quality to the action. In between, I didn't much care for all the cigarette stylizing though. It's fine to capture it as a habit of a character, but lately, it feels like we have returned to fetishising it with stars. But yes, there are some cool touches, as you'd expect in a film like this. Like a crowd-favourite character getting to handle a gun or Mansoor Ali Khan, playing a kaithi and eating biriyani. And yet, are both characters offering any unforgettable moments?

The joys get sparse as Leo goes on. Lokesh has spoken about how this is 100 % his film, but for vast portions in the second half, it doesn't quite feel like it. That's perhaps because Lokesh, with previous films, has trained us to expect better. He has trained us to expect charismatic antagonists. He has trained us to expect proper emotional stakes. He has trained us to expect a certain democracy when it comes to the writing of characters beyond the protagonist. And if his film belongs to the LCU, he has trained us to expect tasteful connections and rousing reveals. I must declare that by Lokesh's own lofty standards, Leo feels like a step down—but this doesn't mean it is devoid of pleasures.

Remembering Dr. K. Bhujang Shetty: A Journey of COMPASSION & INNOVATION

Over the past 40-plus years, under the visionary leadership of Dr. K. Bhujang Shetty, Narayana Nethralaya has transformed into a renowned eye hospital known for its cutting-edge technology, state-of-the-art infrastructure, and best-in-class services, catering to both urban and rural communities. His revolutionary approach positioned Narayana Nethralaya as a premier eye care provider in Karnataka for more than a decade and as one of the nation's top five Ophthalmic institutes.

Dr. Shetty's strong faith in the power of science and research drove Narayana Nethralaya to invest significantly in Research and Development, putting India on the global map in pioneering translational medicine and ophthalmic research. He strongly believed that investing in research was necessary as it would benefit the next generation greatly. His passion for research reflected in his pursuit of a PhD at the age of 67, defying the notion that age could ever hinder the pursuit of the extraordinary.

When he realised that there was a lack of donor eyes in India, and they were being imported from Sri Lanka, he dedicated himself to raising awareness about the importance of eye donation. His efforts in the realm of eye donation received tremendous support from Kannada film star Dr. Rajkumar and his family, propelling the cause forward. To this day, the two eye banks, the Dr. Rajkumar Eye Bank and the Shankar Anand Singh Eye Bank, have gained a reputation of being the state's largest and most productive eye banks. Dr. Shetty's posthumous eye donation further exemplifies this impact as a testimony to his commitment and belief.

Throughout his career, he provided his expertise to treat numerous elite personalities, lawmakers, politicians, and distinguished individuals from various walks of life.

However, his heart and soul were always dedicated to serving the underprivileged. A significant milestone in his endeavour towards free service to mankind was the establishment of Narayana Devalaya, a charitable eye hospital in Tumakuru in December 2022. This hospital offers ultra-modern infrastructure, cashless services, and completely free cataract surgeries to the marginalised sections of the society.

Dr. K Bhujang Shetty

Dr Shetty has pioneered several one-of-a-kind initiatives, including KIDROP (a flagship telemedicine platform to combat infant blindness due to Retinopathy of Prematurity), Buds to Blossoms (a unique center focusing on holistic paediatric vision development), and the Reversing Diabetes Clinic at Narayana Nethralaya.

Dr. Bhujang Shetty's personal achievement of reversing his 25-year battle with diabetes through profound lifestyle changes motivated him to help others battling with Diabetes too. His initiative, the Reversing Diabetes Clinic at Narayana Nethralaya, offers personalised diet counseling and tools for managing health while naturally reversing diabetes. Dr Shetty has reached millions through his TV shows, seminars, workshops, and YouTube videos that emphasise the transformative power of food and lifestyle changes in combating diabetes.

His work has earned several awards and accolades, including the "Kannada Rajyotsava Award" (2010), the highest civilian award in Karnataka, and the "Legend in Ophthalmology" award (2018) at the Times Healthcare Achievers Award.

On his 70th birthday, Dr. Shetty's simplicity, humility, and service to society will be remembered, having left an indelible mark on countless lives. His journey remains a guiding light, showcasing how humble beginnings can lead to remarkable accomplishments.
